

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. INTRODUCTION.

In presenting the initial number of the "Gazeteer and Directory of Ontario County" to the public, the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to have collected, in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of the Geneva Courier, Geneva Gazette, Ontario Citizen, Ontario Repository and Ontario County Times, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to them and the following gentlemen, viz: Col. F. W. Prince, W. N. Smith and Prof. W. D. Wilson, of Geneva; Jacob A. Wader, of Orleans; Samuel E. Norton, of Phelps; Henry J. Wemett, of Canadice; N. K. Cole, Manchester; Edward Herendeen, of Farmington; Spencer Gooding, A. H. Howell, and Maj. Richardson of Canandaigua; Elijah Wells, of Naples; for essential aid in furnishing material for the work. We have also drawn largely from "French's Gazetteer of the State of New York," and from "Turner's History of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase." Many others have kindly volunteered their aid, to all of whom we return sincere thanks.

When it is known that time, equal to nearly three years' labor, if done by one man, has been devoted to the canvass, and the great difficulty many times experienced by the agents in collecting the necessary information, it is believed the patrons of the work will willingly excuse any seemingly short-comings in the completeness of the work.

The advertisers in this work represent many of the leading business men of the County, and we most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

So complete a canvass of a county for a Business Directory, and the additions of farmers' names, together with the number of acres owned or leased by each, the whole arranged alphabetically, after their appropriate post office addresses, we believe has never been attempted by any other publisher.

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable. The indulgence of the reader is solicited in marking such as had been observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Errata, following the Introduction.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

ERRATA.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

GAZETTEER.

County.—On page 26, 2d paragraph, first line, for Freeman's Gazette, read Firemen's Journal.

Farmington.—On page 46, 1st paragraph, for New Salem, (p. v.) read New Salem, (Farmington P. O.)

In same paragraph, Farmington station is erroneously stated to be a post village.

In relation to the early settlement of this town, we gain the following from Edward Herendeen, who is in possession of interesting family records:—

"Nathan Herendeen, at the age of 49 years, his wife and one son Welcom, two sons-in-law, John McComber and Joshua Harington and their families, Nathan Comstock and sons, Nathan Aldrich and family; in all comprising about 40 persons, emigrated from Adams, Mass., about the middle of Feb., 1790. From Utica they found their way through the wilderness by marked trees. Cayuga Lake was crossed on the ice near the site of "Long Bridge." At Seneca Lake outlet they found what was supposed to have been one of Sullivan's transports, used for the crossing of his expedition. With this they crossed over and arrived finally in Farmington on the 15th day of March, 1790. — During the following summer other immigrants came from the same county. Among those earliest pioneers were the Smiths, Hathaways, Paynes and Powers."

On page 47, 4th line, after the words Welcome Herendeen, read son of Joshua Harington, Sept. 17, 1790.

Phelps.—On page 56, 1st paragraph, Gypsum, (P. O.) on the line of Manchester, is a hamlet, was omitted.

West Bloomfield.—Since writing up our historical sketch of this town, an occurrence has happened in the southern part of the town, which presents a most interesting phenomenon. We are indebted to Mr. Charles M. Hendee, of West Bloomfield, for the particulars, and for some extracts from an article written by him, which we use.

It seems that about "Fifty years ago some of the early settlers living near what is now called "Beebe's Brook," (three miles south of our village,) conceived that there was coal or some other valuable mineral in a locality near the brook, and accordingly sunk a shaft to test the matter. After getting down some thirty feet they perceived indications of foul air, and fired a bundle of straw and threw it down the shaft. It instantly ignited and burned high above the surface, causing them to retreat on the double quick (badly scorched) with the entire loss of baggage. It burned a short time and went out, but the experiment induced them to abandon any farther investigations. In later years, parties fishing in the brook by torchlight, could, by touching the surface, (where the water was still) ignite it at pleasure, when it would burn a short time and expire.

These facts being well known, when the "oil fever" was at its height some three years since, parties here decided to bore for oil. A company was formed, an engine and the necessary tools procured, and boring commenced. After boring about one hundred feet they struck a crevice which emitted a strong volume of gas. This gave them renewed courage and they bored away for months until they reached a depth of five hundred feet, when their courage and capital being alike exhausted they concluded to abandon it and pocket the loss as many a seeker after oil has done before and since.

Since then the well has remained in status quo (the volume of gas never flagging for a moment) until about the first of July, when one of our citizens visited it to show it to a visiting friend, and concluded to try an experiment with it. Accordingly he attached a lead pipe to the curbing tube to conduct it outside of the building, and applied a lighted match to it, when, "presto change," quicker than you could say "Jack Robinson," the pipe melted, the flame following it up. They used every effort to extinguish it, but in vain. It would not "out" at their bidding any more than the spot of blood from the hand of Lady Macbeth.

It reached the building in less time than I could write it, and in a short time the structure was a mass of smoking ruins, the heat damaging the engine past repair, leaving damages of $1,000 or so for some one to pay. Since then it has burned constantly. The iron tubing rises fifteen feet above the surface, and a roaring, surging, leaping column, of five or six inches in diameter, rises thirty feet above that, making the vicinity light as day, in the darkest night. The reflection on the sky can be seen for miles away.

The well is situated in a romantic dale, with a pebbly brook running near it. The ground is carpeted with a thick green turf, and altogether it is a charming place at which to spend a few hours pic-nicing, aside from the burning well. It is already a favorite trysting place for the young folks, so much so that they have changed the old song to meet the new order of things. Instead of "O Meet Me by Moonlight, &c.," it is—

O meet me by gaslight alone,
And then I will tell thee a tale,
It must be told by the gaslight alone,
In the grove close by the oil well.

And appointments can be made with some certainty, as the well ever shines, while it is notorious that the moon utterly refuses to shine on dark nights."

The well we understand is situated on the farm of the "Beebe Brothers," and although it has burned continually for some three months, no signs of its abatement as yet appears. The supply of gas seems inexhaustible. It is being visited by travelers from abroad, and should it continue to burn, it will eventually render West Bloomfield one of the noted places in the tourist's guide book.

The Ontario County Times, published in Canandaigua, by N. J. Milliken, is a first class family newspaper, and an able advocate of the local interests of the village and surrounding country. It was established in 1852, and has continually increased in circulation till it now constitutes an excellent advertising medium for those who act the part of wisdom and avail themselves of its columns. Its jobbing department is well and liberally supplied with type, presses, etc., and is capable of turning out superior work in that line. Mr. Milliken, the editor, is a veteran "Knight of the Quill," and also holds the office of County Clerk of Ontario Co., an evidence of the esteem and confidence reposed in him. See advertisement, page 237.

Webster House, Canandaigua. This popular hotel is now under the management of Mr. F. O. Chamberlain, a gentleman who "knows how to keep a hotel," and whose genial and pleasant manners have won for him many friends with the traveling public. The tables are supplied with the choicest delicacies of the season, and the rooms are neat and clean, which combined good qualities render the Webster House a pleasant place to stop at.

Mr. Chamberlain's charges are always reasonable—a good quality that can't be said of every hotel in America. We register our name at the "Webster" when in Canandaigua. See card on page 4, fronting the title page.

John Payne, Jr. of Geneva, deals in China, Glass and Earthen Ware, Groceries &c., at 133 Main St. His stock of China, &c., is from some of the best manufacturing. His Groceries are good as the market affords, and as cheap. In his cellar may be found some of the best brands of pure old liquors to be found in this market. He don't want people to believe all he has to say in his advertisement on the first page of this book, but would prefer they would call and see for themselves.

Dr. J. B. Voak, Homeopathic Physician at Canandaigua. See card, page 18. We would call the attention of farmers, gardeners, &c., to the advertisement of Jno. W. Hawley, of Canandaigua, on page 156. Mr. H. is the sole manufacturer in Ontario County of "W. H. Kelly's Cultivator," which is claimed to be a very superior article. Those interested in the cultivation of the soil would do well to call and inspect the article for themselves. Judd & Son, at the Shortsville Woolen Mills, buy Wool, manufacture for sale, or in exchange for Wool, all kinds of Woolen Goods in the best manner. Their machinery is of the most approved kind, and their well known experience at their profession has drawn for the proprietors a large custom from the surrounding towns, and from adjoining counties. See card page 200.

JOURNAL BUILDING,
23 & 24 WASHINGTON ST.,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

E. G. Cone, dealer in Groceries, Provisions, Stone, Willow, and Wooden ware, Fruits, Nuts, &c., at 34 Seneca street, Geneva, publishes a very attractive card on page 136. The "Chinaman," at the top of the page is symbolical of the purity of his teas; (call at his store and see the veritable man, himself;) farther down in the page is to be found a picture of an assortment of Wooden ware. These articles are all warranted to be made of superior material and well put together. At the bottom of the page we see Mr. Cone's "Grocery Express Wagon," loaded with all manner of goods in his line, for customers; an every day scene in the streets of Geneva.

Finally, we would recommend Mr. Cone, as a "live groceryman," who keeps constantly supplied with good goods, a full assortment, at the lowest market prices. Go and patronize him.

Smith's Drug Store, at Geneva, has become one of the most popular stores of its kind in Western New York. The proprietor, Willard N. Smith, Esq., understands just how to conduct his business to the entire satisfaction of his customers. For more than thirty years, this establishment has supplied the good people of Geneva, and to a large extent the citizens of Ontario and Seneca counties, with Drugs and Medicines. In addition to the Drug business, Mr. Smith has the agency of the celebrated Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines; the only one we believe to which was awarded the gold medal at the Paris Exposition.

He also represents the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York. This company has a cash capital of $22,000,000, and is the heaviest company in America. Another important feature in Mr. Smith's business, is his connection with the Great United States Tea Company, for which he is the exclusive agent in this section. Everybody is, or should be acquainted with the advantages offered by this Company. We would recommend a personal visit to Mr. Smith's store, where particulars may be more fully explained. See card, page 117.

Garretts & Beard, Successors to the firm of J. & F. B. Garrett, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Printing, Writing, Wrapping, Tissue, Roll and Fancy Papers, Printers' Supplies, Shipping Cards, Blank Books, &c., at No. 3 West Fayette street, Syracuse, have built up a heavy trade in their line, extending from Harrisburgh, in Pennsylvania, to the Canadian border. We have dealt considerably with this establishment, and have invariably been gratified in having our orders promptly filled, and always with just the article required. See card, page 206.

John C. Draper, Dry Goods dealer at Canandaigua, advertises on page 90. His stock is large and comprised of all grades of goods suited to the tastes and wants of his customers. The finest articles of Lace, Silk, Worsted, Woolen, Linen or Cotton goods, or the more common grades, may be found at his store at the lowest prices.

The Geneva Courier, now published by R. L. Adams & Son, at Geneva, was established in 1830, by John C. Merrill. It has since passed through several hands. It was published as a daily paper for a few months in 1845-46. The present proprietors purchased the establishment in September of last year, since which time they have added new material and presses, making it one of the best offices in Western New York. Their motive power is an improved caloric or hot air engine, which together with their other facilities enable them to execute the neatest and most difficult styles of job printing. During the present summer, the Messrs. Adams have commenced the publication of a Monthly Magazine, entitled, "The Busy World." It is chiefly devoted to literary articles, miscellaneous matter and advertising. The enterprise is meritorious, and if the citizens of Ontario County follow their best interest, it will receive a very liberal patronage. In speaking of "The Busy World," we must not forget to also notice the advantages presented to advertisers in the columns of the "Courier," whose well-filled pages find a welcome place in the homes of its large list of subscribers. Success and long life say we to the Geneva Courier. See advertisement, page 164.

Dr. G. T. Taft & Co., of Seneca Falls, publish a card on page 176. They are proprietors and manufacturers of the celebrated "Oriental Syrup," "Balm of Gilead Ointment," &c. We would call especial attention to their card; by so doing, many suffering ones may discover the means whereby they may be relieved from much pain.

International Hotel, Geneva. This house under the management of H. L. Suydam, the gentlemanly proprietor, has become a favorite resort for travelers. The rooms are neat and clean, and "mine host" looks after the cravings of the inner man, with commendable generosity. Call at the International when you visit Geneva. See card, page 172.

J. S. Robinson, Proprietor of the "Canandaigua Iron Foundry and Machine Works," publishes a card on page 8. Mr. R. is largely engaged in the manufacture of Agricultural Implements, Mill Gearing, Steam Engines and Machinery generally. His large and successful experience should entitle him to the custom of many new patrons. He advertises to do work promptly and at reasonable prices.

Smith & Gaylord, Carpenters and Builders, at Geneva, are prepared to take jobs for building of all kinds. They are the oldest firm in their line of business in Geneva, and their long and large experience warrants us in recommending them to the notice of all who desire the services of competent and responsible parties. Messrs. S. & G. are also agents for "Bradstreet's Rubbery Moulding," for excluding cold and dust; a profitable addition to every house. See card, page 196.

NEW DINING SALOON, AND CONFECTIONERY, CANANDAIGUA, N. Y.

The subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Canandaigua, that he has rented the building known as

MAXWELL'S INN,

In Hubbell's Block, west side Main street,

Which he has fitted up for a Ladies' and Gentlemen's Dining Room and Confectionery, where he will keep on hand

ALL PROFESSIONAL CALLS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

George S. Adams, at Naples, deals in all kinds of grape vines. He has a full assortment which he offers at extremely low prices. Persons wishing to plant a Vineyard, should not fail of calling on Mr. Adams. He will sell in large or small quantities to suit purchasers. See his card, page 208.

A. H. Matson, Dealer in Music and Musical Instruments, at Geneva, publishes a card on page 306. He is exclusive agent in this section for several of the most celebrated instruments in this country. He pays particular attention to tuning and repairing. We advise those in want of musical merchandise, to call at Mr. Matson's rooms in Linden Hall Block.

T. C. Townsend, at Canandaigua, keeps the Restaurant and Confectionery, cor. of Main and Chapin streets. His rooms are pleasantly fitted up, and he takes pride in serving his customers with oysters, Fish, Fowl, Game &c., of the best qualities, and in the best style, in their seasons. See card, page 18.

H. M. Boardman, near Rushville, in the town of Gorham, is a breeder of pure Spanish Merino Sheep. We would advise those wanting to improve their stock to purchase of him. Mr. B. also grows Grape vines quite extensively, and will supply those in want of them on favorable terms. See card, page 208.

Anson Titus & Son, Plow makers at Phelps, advertise on page 238. For more than 80 years this establishment has been noted for the excellence of its manufactures. They make Plows a specialty, and have, by the combination of the best points in all others, produced a Plow that seems as near perfection as it would appear possible to produce. Farmers will undoubtedly find it to their interest to choose from their large variety and styles.

J. W. Smith & Co., Dealers in Dry Goods, Carpetings &c., at 38 Seneca street, Geneva, have built up a large and successful business. Their store is one of the largest in Western New York, and is at all seasons of the year kept stocked with full lines of all fashionable Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, which they offer at the lowest prices. A visit to their store will fully satisfy the purchaser, who will receive every attention from the gentlemanly proprietors and their attentive salesmen. We would call the special notice of those about to furnish or refurnish their houses to their rich stock of Embroideries, Lace Curtains, Elegant Carpetings, Oil Cloths and House keeping goods generally. See their advertisement page 201.

The Syracuse Business College, under the management of J. H. Warren & Co., is one of the Bryant & Stratton "chain" of Colleges, and has been eminently successful in fitting young men for conducting business successfully. For further information we would advise the reader to peruse their advertisement on page 203.

B. F. Webster, Liveryman at Geneva, publishes a card on page 302. He has recently purchased, at great expense, a splendid hack, which, together with numerous other first class rigs, together with horses to match, renders this establishment a favorite one with pleasure seekers or travelers.

W. T. Swart, Physician and Surgeon at Canandaigua. See card, page 13.

The Ontario Citizen, now published by A. V. Cooper, was started at Vienna, (now Phelps,) in January 1831, by C. H. Lowre, and A. Kilmer, as The Vienna Republican. It has since passed through several hands, and assumed various titles. The present Editor, though a new aspirant to Editorial honors, is, we believe, meeting with favorable success. His paper is well supplied with local and miscellaneous matter and news, and seems to meet the wants of its numerous subscribers, as a local paper. Mr. Cooper will take pains to execute all job printing left in his charge with neatness and despatch. See card, page 200.

Geo. W. Combs & Co., at Canandaigua, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Spokes, Hubs, and Bent Work of every description, from the toughest and best quality of timber. Their terms to carriage makers are such that it must be for their interest to purchase of them. The firm are also prepared to do resawing to order, and they keep all kinds of oak lumber on hand for sale. See card, page 239.

E. R. Norton, Designer and Worker in Marble, at Canandaigua, employs experienced and skillful workmen, and is at all times prepared to execute orders for Tomb Stones, Monuments, Tablets, &c., in the best manner, from first qualities of Marbles. Home industry should at all times be patronized, and we believe it could be no more favorably or satisfactorily bestowed than by dealing with Mr. Norton. See card, page 194.

W. O. Dutcher, Grape Vine Propagator, at Naples, publishes a card on page 196. Persons desiring choice vines will do well to examine his extensive stock and large variety. Mr. Dutcher also grows all the choice varieties of Grapes for market, which he puts up in first class style for winter, or for present use. Parties at a distance can be supplied at favorable rates with this most luscious of fruits.

Burke, Fitzsimmons, Hone & Co., Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Dry Goods, Fancy Goods and Woolens, No. 53 Main street, Rochester, publish a card on page 2. This House was established in 1849, since which time its success has been uninterrupted, each year increasing its amount of business. Their annual sales amount to the enormous sum of near $1,500,000, their trade extending from the Eastern portions of the State to the "Far West." Occupying as they do, fully 25,000 feet of flooring in actual business departments, every portion of which is crowded with immense piles of goods from foreign countries, as well as of domestic manufacture, renders the facilities of this house for Jobbing, equal to any in the country. The firm are also proprietors of the "Genesee Falls Woolen Mills," where they manufacture 100,000 yards of goods annually.

G. C. Dorsey, Grocer, Wine and Provision Dealer, on Water Street, Geneva, keeps an extensive stock of choice goods, which he will be glad to dispose of to all who choose to patronize him, at astonishingly low prices. See his card on page 202, and when you are in want of goods, call and see him.

ONTARIO COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Montgomery, Jan. 27, 1789, and took its name from the great lake which originally formed its northern boundary. It embraced a wide extent of territory, from which Steuben County was taken off in 1796, Genesee in 1802, parts of Monroe and Livingston in 1821, and Yates and a part of Wayne in 1823. A strip west of Seneca Lake was annexed from Montgomery County, Feb. 16, 1791, and a small tract in the fork of Crooked Lake, from Steuben, Feb. 25, 1814. It is centrally distant 180 miles from Albany, and contains an area of 640 square miles. It lies on the extreme northern declivities of the central Alleghany Mountain Range, and has a northerly inclination, the summits of the south hills being elevated about 1,000 feet above the general level of the northern portions. The south part, lying west of Canandaigua Lake, is a hilly and broken region, divided into ridges with steep declivities and summits 1,500 to 1,700 feet above tide. These ridges all take a general north and south direction, declining toward the north, and terminating in a beautifully rolling country, which embraces all of the County lying east of Canandaigua Lake, also those portions west of the lake and north of the north line of the town of Bristol. In this section the ridges rise gradually to a height varying from 20 to 250 feet above the valleys, which affords sufficient inclination for a thorough drainage of the land. A terrace with declivities 100 to 250 feet high, descending toward the north, extends through the northern portions of East and West Bloomfield and the south part of Victor, at right angles to the general range of the ridges. Drift ridges, similar to those found in Wayne and Seneca counties, occupy the extreme north parts of the County.

The geological formation of Ontario County is nearly the same as that of counties lying east of it in the same latitude. The lowest rocks, occupying the north parts of Phelps, Manchester, Farmington and Victor, belong to the Onondaga Salt Group. The gypsum of this Group crops out along the banks of the streams, and is extensively quarried along the Canandaigua Outlet, in Phelps and Manchester, and upon Mud Creek, in Victor. The water limestone, next above, crops out in Phelps, Manchester and Victor, and is quarried for waterlime and building stone. The Onondaga and Corniferous Limestones next appear, and are quarried for building stone in Phelps. The Marcellus and Hamilton Shales occupy all the central portions, south of the foot of Canandaigua Lake; and next above these successively appear the Tully Limestone, Genesee Slate, and the Portage Group, the last named occupying South Bristol, Canadice and Naples. The sandstone found in the Portage Group is extensively used for flagging and building purposes. The underlying rocks seem to have little influence on the soil, except in the extreme south part of the County, as nearly the entire surface is deeply covered with drift deposits of sand, clay and gravel, intermixed with disintegrated gypsum and limestone, evidently deposited by a great torrent that at some remote period swept across the County in a southerly direction. At some points the rocks appear along the banks of the lakes and the courses of the streams. In the town of Bristol are several springs of carburetted hydrogen gas, emanating from the strata of Genesee Slate. These springs are likewise found in East Bloomfield and Richmond. Sulphur springs are also found in the County, the principal ones being at Clifton, though one has been discovered on the outlet of Canandaigua Lake.

The principal streams which drain the County are Honeoye Outlet, a tributary of Genesee River, Canandaigua Outlet and Mud Creek, tributaries of Clyde River. Honeoye Outlet receives as tributaries Egypt Brook and the outlets of Hemlock and Canadice Lakes; Mud Creek receives Beaver, Fish, and Hog Hollow Creeks; and Canandaigua Outlet receives Fall and Flint Creeks. Canandaigua Outlet affords a water-power of no trifling importance. Besides those already named we may mention Irondequoit Creek, which flows through the north-west corner of the County, Keshong Creek, and Burralls and Castle Brooks, which empty into Seneca Lake. Several of the romantic lakes which constitute the most interesting feature in the peculiar landscape beauty for which New York is so justly celebrated, lie wholly or partly in Ontario County. Seneca Lake, which forms a part of the eastern boundary, is 35 miles long and from 1 to 4 miles broad. It is 216 feet above Lake Ontario, 447 feet above tide, and varies in depth from 300 to 630 feet. Lying in a deep valley between the hills, its shores are generally bold, and from their summits the land rises gently, in graceful slopes, to a height of from 200 to 700 feet above its surface. The seeker after the quiet and beautiful in landscape beauty, need go no further than Seneca Lake and the charming country surrounding it, to find a realization of the most enthusiastic anticipations. Canandaigua Lake lies almost wholly within the County. It is about 16 miles in length and its shores slope gradually down to the edge of the water, except toward the head of the lake, where they rise in steep bluffs 300 to 800 feet high. Its surface is 668 feet above tide, and like Seneca Lake it affords the tourist a rare spectacle of natural beauty. Honeoye, which takes its name from the Indian, Hane-a-yeh, lying like a finger; Canadice, from the Indian, Skane-a-dice, long lake, and Hemlock Lakes, are smaller bodies of water, and are each surrounded by hills and bluffs rising to a height of 500 to 700 feet above them.

The soil for the most part consists of a clay, sand and gravel loam, the result of the drift deposits; and in the valleys and beautifully rolling uplands extending through the central and northern portions of the County, the loam is deep and extremely rich, forming a soil of great productiveness, and making this one of the finest agricultural regions in the State. Upon the hills in the south part of the County, the soil is made up principally of disintegrated shale and slate, forming a fine fertile grazing region. Upon the drift hills in the west, are some small sections covered with a deep, light sand, which is moderately productive. The geographical and geological features of this County combine to render it eminently adapted to the various departments of agricultural skill and labor, and few counties in the State excel it in the progress of scientific improvement as applied to the pursuits of agriculture. With that better understanding of the composition and wants of the soil, which is indispensable to a correct system of cultivation, the farmers of Ontario County are improving on the methods of their fathers, and are keeping up and increasing the fertility of their lands. For many years wheat was the staple crop, but of late more attention has been paid to the production of the coarser grains, to stock growing and the cultivation of fruit. Grapes and hops are extensively cultivated in various parts of the county. Wool growing is receiving considerable attention, in some parts, and the fine breeds of sheep were introduced at an early period. As is usually the case in rich agricultural districts, the manufactures are chiefly of a domestic and local character. Within a few years some attention has been paid to the improvement of the water power afforded by the Canandaigua Outlet and other streams, and important manufactories have been established, to which reference will be made in the appropriate place.

The county seat is located, at the beautiful village of Canandaigua, at the foot of Canandaigua Lake, where several fine public buildings have been erected. In 1793, soon after the organization of the County, a court house, jail and county clerk's office were built; and in 1858 a splendid edifice was erected at the joint expense of the County and the U. S. Government, containing a United States and County court room, jury and supervisors' rooms, U. S. District Clerk's and County Clerk's offices, Surrogate's office and post office. The building is of substantial and imposing appearance, being built of brick with iron and tile floors, and is entirely fire proof. The County Poor House is situated on a farm of 212 acres in the town of Hopewell, four miles east of Canandaigua village. It was established in 1826, and is capable of accommodating 250 persons, though the average number of inmates is 136. The present value of the property is about $25,000, and the receipts from the farm and the labor of inmates, in 1864, was $2,500. The main structure is of wood and brick, 40x84 feet, two stories and basement, with two wings, one of which is two stories, 32x60 feet, and the other one story and a half, 25x30 feet. There are also connected with the institution a large wood and wash house, two barns, corn house and all necessary outbuildings. A school house, 18x24 feet, has been put up, where a school supported by the interest of a fund donated by a private individual, is taught during the whole year. The building is in a pleasant yard, and is surrounded by fine trees. The sanitary arrangements and general management of the establishment are creditable to the County.

The principal works of internal improvement in the County are the Erie Canal, which passes through the north-east corner of the town of Manchester, the N. Y. C. R. R., which runs through the northern and central portions of the County, the Canandaigua, Batavia and Tonawanda R. R., a branch of the Central, extending west to Tonawanda, and the Northern Central Railway, which connects with the New York and Erie R. R., at Elmira. There are several lines of plank road in the County, but as they were not made to pay, most of them have been abandoned. According to the census report of 1865, the population at that time was 43,316, the whole number of voters being 10,487, of whom 8,785 were native, and 1,702 naturalized. Out of the entire population, according to the same report, the number unable to read and write was 858.

Five newspapers are now published in the County. The following is a succinct account of the history of the Ontario Press :

The Ontario Gazette and Genesee Advertiser was the first paper published in the present County of Ontario, and was started in Geneva in April, 1797, by Lucius Carey, and removed to Canandaigua in 1799. The Impartial American, or Seneca Museum, was published in Geneva in 1800, by Lucius Eaton. The Expositor was started in Geneva, Nov. 19, 1806, by James Bogart, who, in 1809, changed it to the Geneva Gazette, and continued its publisher till Dec. 4, 1833. In 1827 it assumed the name of The Gazette and General Advertiser. It was published by John Greves and J. C. Merrill until 1837; by J. Taylor Bradt till 1839, and by Stone & Frazer a short time longer, when it was discontinued. It was revived in Jan. 1845, by Ira and S. H. Parker. Geo. M. Horton was at one time interested in its publication, but it subsequently passed into the hands of S. H. Parker, who continued its publication till May 1, 1862, when it passed into the hands of Edgar Parker, by lease, who continued to issue the paper up to May 1, 1866, when S. H. Parker, the present publisher, again assumed its publication. It is now called The Geneva Gazette.

The Geneva Palladium was commenced in 1816, by Young & Crosby, and was published successively by S. P. Hull, John T. Wilson and ——— Connely, until 1828, when it was discontinued.

The Geneva Chronicle was started in 1828, by ——— Jackson, and continued two years.

The Independent American was published by C. Strong, in 1831.

The Geneva American was published by Frank Cowdry, in 1830.

The Geneva Courier was established by John C. Merrill in 1830, and continued till 1839. Its publication was continued by Snow & Williams, Ira Merrill, Howlett & Van Valkenburg, Cleveland & Hook, and Winthrop Atwell, successively, till Oct. 1854, when it passed into the hands of William Johnson, who sold to Look & Fay, Feb. 13, 1866. Look & Fay sold to J. W. Neighbor July 26, 1866, who in turn sold to R. L. Adams & Son, Sept. 5, 1866, by whom it is now published. It was published as a daily paper about six months in 1845-46. On the 15th of July, 1867, Messrs. Adams & Son commenced the publication of a monthly magazine of 32 pages, entitled "The Busy World," which is devoted to business interests and general literature.

The Herald of Truth (Universalist) was started at Geneva, in 1834, by Prescott & Chase, and continued till 1837, when it was removed to Rochester.

The Geneva Democrat was issued by Stone & Frazer, during the campaign of 1840.

The District School Journal (monthly) was started at Geneva in 1840, by Francis Dwight, and removed to Albany in 1841.

The Geneva Advertiser and Mechanics' Advocate, semi-weekly, was started by S. Merrill & Co., in 1841, and continued one year.

The Geneva Budget was commenced in 1852, by Sproul & Tanner, and continued two years.

The New York State Intelligencer was published in 1848, and in 1850, a semi-weekly, called The Ontario Whig, was commenced at Geneva, by William C. Busted, and continued till 1852.

The Geneva Independent and Freeman's Gazette was established in 1851, by W. K. Fowle, and continued by him till 1855, and by H. S. Moore till June 1857. It was afterward published by W. K. Fowle as The Geneva Ledger, but was discontinued a few years since.

The Geneva Daily Union was published several years by W. K. Foyle, by whom it was established in May 1858.

The Ontario Gazette and Genesee Advertiser was removed from Geneva to Canandaigua in 1799, and published by Lucius Cary till 1802. John Keep Goold then becoming the publisher, changed its name to The Western Repository and Genesee Advertiser; and in 1803 it was again changed to The Western Repository. Jas. D. Bemis became interested in its publication in 1804, and in 1808 he issued it as The Ontario Repository, and continued it till 1828. It was published by Morse & Ward, Morse & Wilson, Morse & Harvey, up to 1835, and till 1840 by Chauncy Morse, who was succeeded by George L. Whitney, who in Jan. 1856 sold to H. G. Moore. The following month the office was burned, and the paper suspended. In the following May it was revived as The National New Yorker and Ontario Repository, by H. G. Moore and Dr. B. F. Tefft, and in May, 1857, it passed into the hands of George L. Whitney & Son, by whom it was published till 1862, when it was purchased by J. J. Mattison, and merged in The Ontario Repository and Messenger.

The Ontario Freeman was established at Canandaigua, by Isaac Tiffany, in 1803. In 1806 it became the property of John A. Stevens, who changed its name to The Ontario Messenger. It was successively published by Day & Morse, L. L. Morse, B. W. Jones, and T. B. Hohn. The latter was succeeded in Nov., 1845, by Jacob J. Mattison, who, in 1862, added to it The Ontario Repository, and changed its name to The Ontario Repository and Messenger. It is now published by Mr. Mattison under the above title.

The Republican was started at Canandaigua in 1824, and was afterward published a short time by T. M. Barnum.

The Ontario Phoenix was issued in Canandaigua by W. W. Phelps, in 1827. R. Royce soon becoming its publisher, changed its name to The Freeman. In 1836 it was united to The Repository.

The Clay Club, campaign paper, was issued in Canandaigua in 1844.

The Seminarian, a literary monthly, was published in Canandaigua, in 1851.

The Ontario County Times was established Jan. 1, 1852, by N. J. Milliken, and in 1855 sold to Wilson Miller, who changed it to The Ontario Times. In Feb. 1856, the office was burned. It was re-established May 1, 1856, by N. J. Milliken, and up to 1863-4, was called The Ontario Republican Times, when it again assumed the name of The Ontario County Times, and as such is now published by Mr. Milliken.

The Vienna Republican was started at Vienna, (now Phelps,) in Jan. 1831, by C. H. Lowre, and A. Kilmer. In 1832, it was published by J. O. Balch, and in 1834, changed to The Phelps Journal, E. N. Phelps, publisher, and soon after to The Phelps Journal and Vienna Advertiser; in 1838 to The Phelps Democrat; in 1845 to The Western Atlas. From 1845 to 1856, it was published by Washington Shaw, Dillon & Phelps, and W. W. Redfield. It was changed to The Ontario Free Press, and is now published by A. V. Cooper, as The Ontario Citizen.

The Naples Free Press was commenced at Naples, in 1832, by Waterman & Coleman, and continued two years.

The Neapolitan was started in 1840, by David Fairchild. In 1845 it was sold to — Phelps, who changed its name to The Naples Visitor, soon after which it was discontinued.

The Village Record was published in Naples, in 1842, and The Naples Journal was published by R. Denton in 1851.

The Phelps New Democratic Star was started in Phelps, Sept. 3, 1858, by E. N. Phelps, but has been discontinued.

The territory included within the limits of Ontario County was originally occupied by the Senecas, the most numerous and powerful tribe of the Six Nations. Their chief village was Kanadesaga, upon and just west of the present site of Geneva, at the foot of Seneca Lake. In the wars waged by this renowned Indian League, the Senecas bore a conspicuous part, and especially incurred the bitter enmity of the French occupants of Canada. In 1687, De Nouville, then Governor of "New France," at the head of 1,600 French soldiers, and 400 Indian allies, invaded the Seneca country by way of the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario. An engagement took place in a defile near the present site of the village of Victor, resulting in the defeat of the Indians, though not without severe loss on the part of their enemies. De Nouville, marched onward, burned several Indian villages, and soon retired from the country. The Indian traditions state that but a detachment of the Senecas was engaged in the conflict, the French retreating before the warriors could be rallied from the different villages. In the following year the Senecas and their allies invaded the French settlements in Canada, and took a bloody revenge on the despoilers, 1000 of the French being killed, and 26 taken prisoners and burned at the stake. In the progress of ensuing wars, the Six Nations were sometimes neutral, and sometimes allies of the English, and during the Revolution the Senecas espoused the cause of Britain. In 1779, Gen. Sullivan invaded their country from the south, and laid it waste, burning the villages, and destroying the crops. In a letter dated at More's House, Oct. 17, 1779, and containing General Orders, Gen. Washington, says: "The Commander-in-Chief has now the pleasure of congratulating the army on the full and complete success of Maj. Gen. Sullivan, and the troops under his command, against the Seneca and other tribes of the Six Nations, as a just and necessary punishment for their wanton depredations, their unparalleled and innumerable cruelties, their deafness to all remonstrance and entreaty, and their perseverance in the most horrid acts of barbarity. Forty of their towns have been reduced to ashes, some of them large and commodious. Their crops of corn have been entirely destroyed, which, by estimation, it is said would have amounted to 160,000 bushels—besides large quantities of vegetables of various kinds. Their whole country has been over-run and laid waste; and they themselves compelled to place their security in a precipitate flight to the British fortress at Niagara." In a succeeding letter to Gen. La Fayette, the Commander-in-chief says: "These unexpected and severe strokes have disconcerted, humbled and distressed the Indians exceedingly." With the return of peace the force of the Indians seemed annihilated, and their spirits completely subdued, and they gradually yielded to the encroachment of the whites, till the last acre of their beautiful hunting-grounds, and the very graves of their fathers, passed out of their possession.

The tradition of the Senecas, regarding their origin is as follows: They state that they broke out of the earth from a high mountain near the head of Canandaigua Lake, which is still venerated by the remnant of the tribe as the place of their birth. Thence they derive the name "Ge-nun-de-wah," or "Great Hill," and hence are called "The Great Hill People," which is the signification of the word Seneca. At this hill, called Genundewah, the Senecas have always met in council, to hold intercourse, and offer up prayers, on account of its being their birth-place, and also because of their miraculous delivery from total destruction by a huge serpent, which they say completely surrounded the fort at the top of the hill, its head and tail coming together at the gate. It lay there a long time, to the terror and amazement of the dwellers inside, who at length attempted to escape, some with their implements, others with their household furniture; but in marching out at the gate, all walked down the throat of the serpent. Two orphan children escaped this destruction by being left at the opposite side of the fort, and they were informed by an oracle how to destroy the monster. They were to take a small bow and a poisoned arrow, made of a species of willow, and shoot his snakeship under the scales. They did so, and as the arrow pierced the skin, the monster became sick, and, extending itself, rolled down the hill, destroying all the timber in its way, disgorging itself and breaking wind greatly as it went. At every movement a human head was disgorged and rolled down the hill, to its foot, where they lie to this day in a petrified state, having the hardness and appearance of stones. The pagan Indians believe that all the smaller serpents sprang from the blood of the devastating monster which surrounded the fort. The two children who escaped, repopulated the earth. The traveler, in passing through Canandaigua Lake, as he approaches the great hill, will observe a sort of a ditch, or gully, extending from the base to the summit, which the Indians claim was the track left by the serpent in his ascent; and stones, resembling a head in shape, may be seen near the bank of the lake in great numbers, said to be the heads disgorged by the traditionary monster. The Senecas also had a tradition that previous to their origin, the country was occupied by a civil, industrious and enterprising people, who were also victims of this insatiate serpent, assisted by others of the same species. They believe that the Indians were then all of one nation, and spoke one tongue, but the same serpent, by an unknown influence, confounded their language, and thus occasioned their divisions into tribes.

By the terms of the charter granted to the colony of Massachusetts, the regions between its north and south boundaries, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was embraced, and at the close of the Revolution, Massachusetts laid claim to the title of this vast territory. The subsequent charter of New York conflicted with this claim, and hence difficulties arose which were finally settled at a meeting of commissioners held at Hartford, Conn., Dec. 16, 1786. It was there agreed that Massachusetts should cede to New York the sovereignty of all the territory claimed by the former, lying within the limits of the latter, and that New York should cede to Massachusetts the property of the soil, or the right of pre-emptions of the soil from the Indians. This agreement covered all that part of the State lying west of a line running north from the "82d milestone," on the line between New York and Pennsylvania, through Seneca Lake to Sodus Bay. This line is what is known as the "Old Pre-emption Line," to which constant reference is made in all the early histories of this section of the country. In 1787, Massachusetts sold the whole of this tract, comprising 6,000,000 acres, to Oliver Phelps and Nathaniel Gorham, for $1,000,000. In the following spring, Mr. Phelps left his home in Granville, Mass., with men and means to explore the country thus acquired. Having collected, with considerable difficulty, the sachems, chiefs, and warriors of the Six Nations at Kanadesaga, (now Geneva,) in July 1778, he concluded with them a treaty of purchase of a tract of 2,250,000 acres, bounded east by the pre-emption line, west by a line 12 miles west of and parallel with the Genesee River, south by the Pennsylvania line, and north by Lake Ontario. That part of the tract to which the Indians still held title, consisting of about two-thirds of the original purchase, was relinquished by Phelps and Gorham, and having reverted to Massachusetts, was re-sold by her to Robert Morris, in 1796, and subsequently formed what is known as the Holland Land Purchase. In 1789, at Canandaigua, Mr. Phelps opened the first regular land office ever opened in America, for the sale of land to the settlers. The system he adopted for the survey of his land into townships and ranges, after slight modifications, was adopted by the Government for the survey of all new lands belonging to the United States. When organized in 1789, Ontario was the first county set off from Montgomery, and embraced all that portion of the State lying west of the east line of Phelps and Gorham's purchase, and included what is known as "The Genesee Country." Settlement commenced at the Indian village of Kanadesaga, (now Geneva,) in 1787. Two years thereafter, the land office at Canandaigua was opened, and settlement was soon commenced in various parts of the County. From this time onward settlers came in rapidly, being attracted by the beauty of the country and the fertility of the soil. Many of the heads of these pioneer families had borne part in the Revolution, and, inheriting alike the principles and firmness of their forefathers, whatever in reason and propriety they wished to accomplish, their energy and perseverance was sufficient to secure. The vast forest was subdued, avenues of social and commercial intercourse opened, dwellings and temples of worship erected with unexampled rapidity, and in about seven years from the entrance of the first settler, a number of towns in Ontario County were furnished with well chosen public libraries. The spirit of these pioneer fathers has descended to their children, and in the pursuits of business life, in intellectual culture and public spirit, the people of Ontario County are to be found in the advance guard of the army of Progress. Few incidents of general interest have occurred to interrupt the steady and continued progress of peaceful industry. The most notable of its later historical events, is its being the scene of the birth of Mormonism. Joe. Smith resided several years in Manchester, and there occurred the pretended discovery of the gold plates of the Book of Mormon, Sept., 22, 1827. Brigham Young was a resident of Canandaigua for a long time, and the first regular Mormon society was formed at Fayette, in the adjoining county of Seneca, in the year 1830.

The present sketch of Ontario County would be incomplete without some allusion to that strange person, Jemima Wilkinson, or "The Universal Friend," as she was called by her followers, who was the founder of a religious sect and the pioneer of all the Genesee country. She was the daughter of Jeremiah Wilkinson, of Cumberland, Rhode Island, and was one of a family of twelve children, her father being an ordinary New England farmer.—When she was in her twentieth year the entire family except her, had a severe attack of fever, during which she cared for them, and after their recovery was herself attacked and her life despaired of. In the extremity of her illness, according to her own account, when friends had assembled at her bedside to witness her death, it was suddenly revealed to her that she must "raise her dead body." She arose from her bed, and after offering a fervent prayer, called for her clothing and announced that her carnal existence had ended; that henceforth she was divine and spiritual, and gifted with the power of prophecy. She soon commenced traveling and exhorting, and her followers multiplied, many of them being good and prosperous New England farmers. After traveling through New England and Eastern New York, she spent several years near Philadelphia, with her followers, making proselytes wherever she went. Her authority over them was absolute, and on one occasion she proclaimed a fast of thirty days on bread and water, which was strictly obeyed. A writer in the "New Haven Gazette and Connecticut Magazine," of March, 1787, thus describes her: "She is about the middle size of women, not genteel in her person, rather awkward in her carriage; her complexion is good, eyes remarkably black and brilliant, hair black and waving, with beautiful ringlets on her neck and shoulders; her features are regular and her whole face thought by many to be perfectly beautiful. As she is supposed to be of neither sex, this neutrality is manifest in her attire. She wears no cap, letting her hair hang down as has been described, and wears a neck-cloth like a man; her chemise is buttoned at the neck and wrists, and her outside garment is a robe, under which it is said she wears an expensive dress, the fashion of which is made to correspond neither with that of a man nor woman. Her understanding is not deficient, except touching her religious fanaticism. She is very illiterate, yet her memory is very great; artful in discovering many circumstances which fall out among her disciples." She required the greatest personal attention, one of her disciples generally performing her most menial service. Her preaching had but little connection and was lengthy, but, at times, zealous, lively and animated. She assumed to have two "witnesses," in all respects corresponding to those spoken of in Rev., Chap. XI, 3d to 13th verse. In 1786, she sent out three of her followers to seek some unsettled region far from towns and cities, where she and her colony might locate. They accordingly set out for the Genesee country; visited the region at the foot of Seneca Lake; explored the country a few days and returned to the Friend. In June, 1787, twenty-five of them visited Geneva and were attracted to the west shore of the Lake, passed up the Falls, explored the neighborhood and fixed on it as their chosen locality, and began their settlement at Dresden, Yates County, and subsequently purchased the town of Jerusalem. The Friend joined her colony in 1789, and thereafter she is more or less intimately connected with the early history of this part of the State, as she held her meetings in many of the new settlements. Among her followers man and wife were not separated, but were forbidden to multiply. They had two days of rest in the week, Saturday and Sunday, and lived temperately, industriously and in harmony. The meetings were conducted much after the mode of the regular Society of Friends, but these two were entirely separate, and, so far as we can learn, had no sympathy with each other. The Friend's community flourished for a time, but began to decline at an early period. Emigration spread out to them, and the relations of town and neighborhood gave rise to antagonistic ideas. Militia musters came and the Friends refused to serve, and fines were imposed, resulting in the sale of a considerable of their property. The Friend was harrassed with indictments for blasphemy, but was never convicted, and thus the society became weakened, and dwindled away until nothing of it now remains. Jemima Wilkinson died in 1819, or departed, as her believers would have it, leaving Rachael Malin as her successor in spiritual and temporal affairs. She kept up the meetings till within a few years of her death, which occurred about the year 1849, when they were discontinued, and the Society of "Universal Friends" went down to join the dark shadows of the many false creeds that have risen and flourished for a time, but have finally perished from the face of the earth, as all false doctrines must.

In preparing this brief historical account the writer has been unable to obtain any reliable data by which to give a complete exhibit of the part Ontario County bore in the war of the Rebellion. Three Regiments, the 1st Veteran Cavalry, the 126th N. Y. V., and 148th N. Y. V., were organized in the County. Many companies were raised and went into regiments from other counties, while numbers of men enlisted in localities outside of the County, and were there accredited. We can only give a few statistics as furnished us by individuals. At Canandaigua, Capt. Cutler raised a company for the 33d Reg., as did Capt. Henry Fautot for the 18th N. Y. Infantry, Capt. Fitzgerald for the 28th Reg. and Capt. Clark for the 85th Reg. Lieut. Adams and Lieut. Williams, each raised a part of two companies, which were consolidated and went into the 98th Reg. Both these officers were promoted to Captaincies. Capt. Dennis raised Co. H of the 4th N. Y. Heavy Artillery. Some men from Canandaigua went into the 50th Engineers, and the 148th Reg. had several officers from that place. Capt. Brown, of Shortsville, raised a cavalry company at Canandaigua, and each of the various towns in that vicinity nobly did its share toward supplying the sinews of war. Geneva was constituted the recruiting headquarters for the County, and there the enlistments mainly took place. Co. H, 33d Reg., was raised in Geneva by Capt. Calvin Walker, who was subsequently promoted to Lieut. Colonel of the Regiment. 1st Lieut. J. S. Platner was promoted to Major, and H. L. Suydam, of Geneva, was 1st Quarter master. Capt. Wm. H. Baird raised a company in Geneva for the 38th Reg., and was promoted to Major of the Regiment, and to Lieut. Col. and Col. of the 126th N. Y. V. This gallant officer was killed at Petersburg. The 126th N. Y. V. was organized in Geneva by Col. E. E. Sherrill, who fell at Gettysburg, July 3d, 1863. Capt. Lee, Capt. Shimer, Lieut. Sherman and a number of privates from Geneva, also fell in the terrible carnage of that day. The 148th N. Y. V. was also organized in Geneva, and went out under command of Col. Wm. Johnson, of Seneca Falls. Capts. Gage and Munson, and Lieuts. Scott and Huke, of Geneva, were officers in this Regiment, and Dr. C. H. Carpenter was Regimental Surgeon. Capt. Gage was killed before Richmond. Capt. Scott also fell in action, and Lieut. Huke died at Portsmouth, of disease. The 1st Veteran Cavalry was organized at Geneva, by Col. R. S. Taylor, formerly Col. of the 33d. Major Platner, of the 33d, was Lieut. Col., and was promoted to Col. and brevetted Brig. Gen. for gallant and meritorious services. The 50th U. S. Engineers was organized at Elmira, by Col. Stewart, of Geneva, formerly Chief Engineer in the United States Navy. Capts. Smalley and Gilbert, Lieuts. Langdon and Robbins, and a large number of men from Geneva, went into this Regiment. This village was also largely represented in the 24th N. Y. Cav., 14th N. Y. Artillery, and 16th N. Y. Artillery. F. W. Prince, of Geneva, went out in the latter as Major, was promoted to Lieut. Col. and brevetted Col. for gallant conduct. The 160th N. Y. V. had nearly a full company from Geneva. Lieut. McDonough, who was formerly a printer in the Gazette office, was an officer in this Regiment, and fell at Port Hudson while bravely struggling for the victory. The 3d N. Y. Artillery had some officers and men from Geneva. Col. Prince was Quartermaster prior to his service in the 16th N. Y. Artillery. The 85th N. Y. V., organized at Elmira, had two companies from Ontario County. Co. B was raised by Capt. Clark, of Naples, with Lieuts. Aldrich and Bronson. Capt. Clark was promoted to Lieut. Col., Lieut. Aldrich became Captain and was promoted to Major, and Lieut. Bronson died in Virginia. Co. G, 85th Reg., was raised at Geneva, by Capt. Raines, with Lieuts. Munger, of Penn Yan, and Alsop, of Geneva. Col. William K. Logie, of Geneva, was killed in action near Atlanta.

This necessarily brief and imperfect review of the military record of the County, is sufficient to show that her citizens were not lacking in patriotic ardor. Men and means were given in unstinted measure at each repeated call, and many were they whose lives sealed their devotion to their country and her sacred cause. While memorial shafts rise above the ashes of these, the patriot dead, they shall have a more fitting and eternal remembrance in the grateful hearts of their countrymen. And may He, who rules among the nations of the earth, grant that the peace which they died to conquer may be ever unbroken, shedding its joyful fruits to the latest generation and the remotest age of time.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BRISTOL was formed in January 1789, and was named from Bristol County, Mass., from which the first settlers came. South Bristol was taken off in 1838, and a part was annexed to Richmond, March 23, 1848, but was restored February 25, 1852. It is an interior town, lying south-west of the center of the County. The surface of the country is broken and hilly, consisting of a series of ridges gradually declining toward the north. These ridges are divided by the deep valleys lying along Mud Creek and Egypt Brook, their highest summits being 500 feet above the level of the valleys. The declivities bordering on the above-named streams in the south part are usually very steep, while the soil upon the intervals is a rich alluvial, and disintegrated slate and shale among the hills.

Bristol Center contains about 30 houses, a saw mill, grist mill, and two stores. There is also a Methodist Episcopal church located here. Baptist Hill, (Bristol p. o.,) so called because a Baptist church was erected there at an early date, contains a public house, two stores, several shops and two churches,—Methodist and Universalist. Muttonville is a smaller settlement, and derives its name from a great slaughter house and tallow chandlery located there 12 years ago. 30,000 sheep have been slaughtered there in a single year. Egypt is a hamlet in the south-east part of the town. In what is known as the Wilder Gully, near the center of the town, are several peculiar springs, from which there is a constant flow of carburetted hydrogen gas, which, when ignited, burns readily, throwing up a brilliant flame from one to three feet high. During the excitement connected with the discovery of petroleum, it was suspected that great quantities of oil existed in the vicinity of these springs, and various wells were sunk, but without satisfactory results. The derricks are yet standing. The land is mostly devoted to grain growing, but of late considerable attention has been paid to the culture of hops. In the valley along Mud Creek the soil is well adapted to this branch of agriculture, which is found to be highly profitable, some yards having cleared $1,000 per acre in 1866.

Gamaliel Wilder and Joseph Gilbert were the pioneers of Bristol, having located and commenced improvement in 1788. Mr. Wilder built the first grist mill in 1790. The first school was taught by Thomas Hunn, in 1790, and the first store and tavern were opened in 1793, by Stephen Sisson. The first church in Bristol was built of logs; the second was built about three-fourths of a mile south of the first. After standing about twenty-five years, a portion of the steeple was taken down and converted into a school house. After being occupied for that purpose about fifteen years, another change was made in the old church steeple; this time it was converted into a toll-gate house; at present it serves Erastus Allen as a corn house. Cornelius McCrum was the first child born. William Gooding and George Coddington settled here in 1789. Both families have been widely known, and none were more effectual in subduing the wilderness, and promoting the advancement of education, religion and sound moral principles. The descendants of George Coddington are numerous, and mostly reside in the locality where their pioneer ancestor settled. The Gooding family was also quite numerous, Deacon John Gooding, one of the sons of Deacon William Gooding, having been one of the founders of Lockport, where he died in 1838 or 1839. Spencer Gooding, one of the prominent lawyers of Canandaigua, is a descendant of the pioneer. Elnathan and George Gooding came to this part of the Genesee country in 1790, and Alden Sears, and John, George, Farmer, Burt, and William Coddington, in 1792. The earliest record of a town meeting is that of 1797, when William Gooding was chosen Supervisor, and John Coddington, Town Clerk. There are now four churches in the town, viz: Baptist, Congregationalist, Methodist Episcopal and Universalist.

$2,502.47 was expended for common school purposes in 1866-7; $733.82 was the amount of public money apportioned; the value of school property was $4,915, and the average daily attendance 219.

CANADICE was formed from Richmond, April 15, 1829, and a part was annexed to Richmond in 1836. Its name is a corruption of Skane-a-dice, the Indian name of the lake which lies within its borders. The surface consists of a high, broken upland, separated into two ridges by Canadice Lake. The west ridge, known as Bald Hill, is bordered by steep declivities, and the east by more gradual slopes. The highest summits are 700 feet above Honeoye Lake. Canadice Inlet and Outlet and Honeoye Outlet are the principal streams. In the valleys the soil is a clay loam, and upon the declivities it is principally disintegrated slate and shale, while on the hill summits in the south part it consists of gravelly loam and black muck. The school property in this town is valued at $3,035. The amount expended for school purposes in the year 1866-7, was $1,764.75; the amount of public money apportioned $510.89, and the average daily attendance 138.

Canadice (p. v.) is a hamlet, and forms the business centre of the town. The first settlement was made by ——— Kimball, in 1807, but soon after John Wilson settled at the head of Canadice Lake, and John Richardson, John Wheeler, Samuel Spencer and And. Ward near Canadice Corners. The first tavern was opened by Llewelyn Davis, and Severance & Ford kept the first store. The first saw mill in town was built by John Algur, at the head of Canadice Lake. There are three churches in town,—Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Wesleyan Methodist.

CANANDAIGUA was formed January 27, 1789, and a part was annexed to Richmond in 1836. It derives its name from Gan-a-dar-que, a village built by the Seneca Indians on the present site of the village of Canandaigua. The name signifies "a chosen spot." It is the central town of the County, lying upon the west and north shores of Canandaigua Lake, and embraces a rich agricultural district. The surface is level or gently rolling in the north, but hilly in the south, the extreme summits being about 600 feet above the lake. The soil is a clay loam in the north, and a deep, gravelly loam in the south. For fertility and productiveness, Canandaigua ranks as one of the first towns in the State.—Canandaigua Outlet, Beaver Creek and Stevens Brook, are the principal streams.

Canandaigua, the County Seat, situated at the foot of Canandaigua Lake, is an important station on the N. Y. C. R. R., and is the terminus of the N. F. and C. Branch, and of the E. J. and C. R. R. Two low pressure steamers ply daily between Canandaigua and Woodville, at the head of the lake, during the navigation season, and connection is made with Naples, four miles south of Woodville, by a stage route. It contains a splendid court-house, a State arsenal, six churches, an academy, a female seminary, a private lunatic asylum, an orphan asylum, two newspaper offices, three banks—two of issue and one of deposit—and four or five hotels.—It has also some extensive establishments for the manufacture of plows, doors, sash and blinds, a planing mill and a great brewery. It was incorporated April 18, 1815, and has a population of 5,146, according to the census of 1865, an increase of more than 1,000 since 1855. The State Arsenal is situated on the brow of a hill, a little to the west of the village, and is of ancient date, having been authorized prior to the war of 1812. One thousand stand of arms was ordered to be deposited there, February 12, 1808. The Academy was founded by Phelps and Gorham, who gave large grants of land to the institution. The charter was granted March 4, 1795, that venerable document being now in the possession of Alexander H. Howell, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Trustees. It bears the signature of George Clinton, Chancellor of the University of New York, and the impression on the State Seal is entirely effaced by age. That the founders of this institution had an eye to the instruction of the youth in the fundamental principles of Republican Government, then so lately and dearly established, as well as in classical and scientific lore, is evident from a deed, also in possession of the Secretary, granting 2,500 acres of land to be sold or put to rent, $20 of the proceeds of which shall be given to that young man, who at the yearly Commencement, shall publicly pronounce, in the opinion of a majority of the Trustees present, the best oration "On the Transcendent Excellence of genuine, representative Republican Government, effectually securing equal Liberty founded on the Rights of Man." The Academy building was raised in 1797, but has since been remodelled and enlarged. It stands on Main street, surrounded by about 20 acres, laid out in fine grounds, with beautiful shade trees, walks, etc., etc. The Ontario Female Seminary was founded in 1825, and is a prosperous institution. The buildings are commodious and pleasantly situated upon beautiful grounds, also on Main street. The Brigham Hall Lunatic Asylum, incorporated in 1859, is about one mile south-west of the Court House. The grounds comprise about 70 acres, and the buildings, with accommodations for 80 patients, are located in a fine grove of 16 acres. The place is retired and the treatment successful. The Ontario Orphan Asylum was incorporated under a special act in 1863, and has real estate to the value of $5,000, while the personal property is valued at $1,600. It is capable of accommodating 60 inmates. It is controlled by a board of Protestant trustees and managers, and occupies a building erected for a dwelling, with sixteen rooms, basement, dining room, etc. The receipts for the year ending May 1865, were $4,423.88, exclusive of donations of provisions, etc., from Canandaigua and surrounding towns. The County Agricultural Society has a lot containing 10 acres, with suitable buildings, within the corporation limits. The Wood Library Association was organized several years ago by the residents of the village, and a Library and Reading Room has been established, which is located in the building containing the town offices, and is supported by subscription of the members. The Library now comprises nearly 2,000 volumes, and the Reading Room is supplied with files of the leading daily and weekly papers, and standard magazines. The collection of a cabinet of minerals, shells, Indian curiosities, etc., has been commenced, and it already contains several valuable specimens. A lecture course is maintained during a portion of the year.

The early history of Canandaigua is full of interest, but the limits of the present work will not admit of a detailed account of all the incidents which transpired in the course of early settlement, and we can only hope to afford the reader a mere glance at the events which transpired in those remote and momentous times. Probably nearly every person into whose hands this work may fall, is already familiar with the history of the Phelps and Gorham purchase, which was accomplished in 1788. After the conclusion of the treaty, and before leaving the country, Mr. Phelps made arrangements for the survey of the newly purchased lands into Ranges and Townships, which was done under contract, by Col. Hugh Maxwell, who, assisted by Judge Porter, completed the work in 1789. As the foot of Canandaigua Lake was a central locality in the purchase, Mr. Phelps determined to make it the center of future operations in the new country, and accordingly erected a storehouse on the bank of the lake. The next step was to make the primitive roads leading to and from the site thus selected. Men were employed at Geneva, who underbrushed and continued a sleigh road from where it had been previously made on Flint Creek, to the foot of Canandaigua Lake, following pretty much the old Indian trail. A wagon road was next constructed to Manchester. No one wintered in Canandaigua in 1788-9, but early in the spring, Joseph Smith moved his family from Geneva, and occupied the log storehouse previously referred to. He then built a block house on the rise of ground, on what is now Main street, and there opened the first tavern in Canandaigua. Early in May 1789, Gen. Israel Chapin arrived at Canandaigua, accompanied by eight or ten others, and selected his residence near the Outlet. Soon after, Mr. Walker, agent for Phelps and Gorham, arrived with a party, and opened a land office. Judge John H. Jones was one of the party who opened the road from Geneva to Canandaigua, in 1788, and on revisiting the place in August, 1789, he says: "There was a great change. When we left in the fall of '88, there was not a solitary person there; when I returned, fourteen months afterwards, the place was full of people; residents, surveyors, explorers, adventurers; houses were going up; it was a busy thriving place." From this time settlement was quite rapid, and, in 1792, there were 30 families in town. In all those early years the forest afforded plenty of venison, and the lake and small streams abounded in fish. Whortleberries, blackberries, raspberries, strawberries, wild plums and crab apples, were plenty in their season, and afforded a pretty fair substitute for cultivated fruits. The first currants were served up at the table of Mrs. Hannah Sanborn, at a tea party, in 1794, and the event marked an era in the history of the place. The first Town Meeting was held in April, 1791. Israel Chapin was chosen Supervisor, and James D. Fish, Town Clerk. Among the first items of legislation, we find the following which were voted at that Town Meeting:

"Voted, That swine, two months old and upward, shall have good and sufficient yokes."

"Voted, That for every full grown wolf killed in town, a bounty of thirty shillings shall be paid."

By the town records of 1794, it seems that Anannias M. Miller had a mill in operation on Mud Creek. In 1795, the sale of several slaves, the property of residents of Canandaigua, is recorded. The first Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions was held at the house of Nathaniel Sanborn, in November, 1794, Timothy Hosmer and Charles Williamson, being the presiding Judges, associated with whom, as Assistant Justice, was Enos Boughton. The Attorneys were, Thomas Morris, John Wickham, James Wadsworth and Vincent Matthews. There were a number of suits on the calendar, but no jury trial was had. A Grand Jury was impanelled and one indictment found. The next session of the court was in June, 1795, and Peter B. Porter and Nathaniel W. Howell, Attorneys of the Supreme Court, were admitted to practice in the courts of Ontario County, as also were Stephen Ross and Thomas Mumford. The first jury trial west of Herkimer county, was held at this Court; the case being the trial of an indictment, preferred at the previous session, for stealing a cow bell. John Wickham, as the County Clerk, was ex-officio District Attorney, but the prosecution devolved on Nathaniel W. Howell, while the defence was conducted by Peter B. Porter and Vincent Matthews. Canandaigua from the earliest period has been noted for the high reputation of her bar, which has at times included the very best legal ability of the State.

Although not entitled to it by population, in 1791, Ontario County was by special act entitled to a representative in the Assembly, and, in 1792, Gen. Israel Chapin was sent to that legislative body. Thomas Morris, son of Robert Morris, who purchased the pre-emption right of what was afterward the Holland Purchase and Morris Reserve, was an early settler at Canandaigua, and was the first representative in Congress from all the region west of Seneca Lake. John Clark came with Oliver Phelps to the treaty in 1788. His trade was that of a tanner and currier, and he manufactured the first leather made in the Genesee country. This was from the hides of cattle driven on to supply beef for the Indians at the treaty. His vats were formed of sections of hollow trees, and from this small beginning, grew up a flourishing business which, in time, extended over a wide region. Luther Cole was the first mail carrier, his route being from Canandaigua to Whitesboro. Phineas P. Bates, in 1800, was the mail boy from Canandaigua to Fort Niagara. The first birth was that of Oliver Phelps Rice, and the first death that of Caleb Walker, both of which occurred in 1790.—Samuel Gardner opened the first store, and the first school was taught by Major Wallis, in 1792. At the time of the sickness of Mr. Walker, Dr. Adams, of Geneva, was the nearest physician, and, on being sent for, visited the sick man. He was destitute of medicine, but obtained some by breaking open a chest left by a traveler. At the funeral, the physician being an Episcopalian, read the burial service, which was the first religious exercise after settlement was commenced in the Genesee country. In the same year, however, religious meetings were held in Judge Phelps' barn, sermons being read by John Call, singing was led by Mr. Sanborn, and prayers were omitted, as there was no one to make them. Dr. Moses Atwater settled in Canandaigua, in 1791, and was the first physician. He was an early Judge of Ontario County, and died in 1848, at the advanced age of 82 years.

In this hasty review of the early history of this beautiful village, scores of names, well known as pioneers, have been necessarily omitted, but in this connection, we desire briefly to allude to a man who, from his great charity, philanthropy and benevolence, is entitled to remembrance, as the Howard of his region. We refer to William Wood, who, though not himself a pioneer, has done much to perpetuate the memory of the pioneers, and keep the recollection of their deeds fresh and green in the hearts of their posterity. Mr. Wood was a bachelor, and a native of Charlestown, Mass. At one time he was an importer in Boston, and subsequently became a cotton dealer in New Orleans, where he was noted for deeds of philanthropy. Finally, becoming a resident of Canandaigua, he endeared himself to all, on account of his quiet, unostentatious manners and charitable deeds. The public edifices, streets, and the rural church-yard, all bear testimony to his public spirit. He was in the habit of occasionally visiting the jail, carrying apples, books and other acceptable presents to the inmates, and many a weary prisoner has had his hours of loneliness beguiled and cheered by the gentle kindness and sympathy of this most estimable man. In many cities and villages of this country and in England, he was instrumental in establishing libraries and schools, mainly for the benefit of mechanics, apprentices and clerks. He collected and placed in appropriate positions, in the Court House at Canandaigua, the portraits of the pioneers of the Genesee country. He has been dead some years, but his memory is held in respectful and affectionate veneration by all who knew him.

Canandaigua has numbered among her inhabitants many distinguished men. Hon. Gideon Granger was Postmaster General, under Jefferson's administration; and his son, Hon. Francis Granger, held the same office under Harrison. Among the distinguished names of which this place may well be proud, we may mention Hon. M. H. Sibley, Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, Gen. John A. Granger, and Ex-Gov. Myron H. Clark.

Cheshire (p. v.) is a small village of about 20 houses, in the south part of the town. Centerfield is a hamlet, and Academy, near the south line, is a post office.

The first church was organized at Canandaigua, Feb. 4, 1799, it being St. Matthew's, Episcopal, now St. John's. The Congregational Church was organized Feb. 25, 1799. There are 11 churches in town. The amount of money expended for common schools in the town of Canandaigua in the year 1866-7, was $8,754.83; the amount of public money apportioned $2,088.24; the value of school property $14,800, and the average daily attendance 540.

EAST BLOOMFIELD was formed January 27, 1789, as Bloomfield. Mendon and Victor were taken off in 1812; its name was changed and West Bloomfield taken off in 1833. It is an interior town, lying north-west of the center of the County. The surface is rolling, with slight inclination to the north, the ridges rising 50 to 600 feet above the valleys. The soil is extremely fertile, consisting of deep, gravelly loam, in places mixed with clay. It is a superior agricultural section, raising fine grain. Grapes and hops are cultivated to a large extent, and considerable attention is paid to the cultivation and improvement of fruit, many young orchards having been set out within a few years.

$3,008.16 was expended for common school purposes in the year 1866-7. The amount of public money appropriated was $808.62; the value of school property is $5,250, and the average daily attendance of pupils 260.

Griffith's Mills, in the east, Brag Village, in the south-east, and Shepherd's Mills, in the north-east part of the town, are hamlets. East Bloomfield (p. v.) is a thrifty and growing village of about 600 inhabitants, three-fourths of a mile from East Bloomfield Station, on the N. Y. C. R. R. It contains three churches, a flourishing academy, incorporated in 1838, manufactories of agricultural implements and carriages, and an extensive furnace and machine shop. A large freight house, and a planing mill and machine shop are in process of construction. A Soldier's Monument was erected in East Bloomfield, January, 1867, by subscription. It is a plain shaft of gray stone, 60 feet high, surmounted by a full size statue representing a soldier in full uniform, and was erected at an expense of $6,000. On it is inscribed the name of every enlisted soldier of the town, who died in the discharge of his duty as a defender of the national flag. The town lost heavily in the late sanguinary struggle, and this beautiful shaft, pointing upward in its solemn and silent eloquence, shall be an eternal memorial of the gallant deeds and heroic self-sacrifice of those whose ashes rest beneath its shadow.

"How sleep the brave, who sink to rest,
By all their country's wishes blest!
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallow'd mold,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy's feet have ever trod.
By fairy hands their knell is rung,
By forms unseen their dirge is sung;
There Honor comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay;
And Freedom shall awhile repair,
To dwell, a weeping hermit, there."

The settlement of East Bloomfield was commenced at the same time as that of Canandaigua. The east township was purchased by Capt. William Bacon, Gen. John Fellows, Elisha Lee, Deacon John Adams and Dr. Joshua Porter. Deacon Adams was the pioneer settler and patriarch, as he brought with him a large family, consisting of his wife, his sons John, Abner, Joseph, William and Jonathan; his sons-in-law, Ephraim Rew, Lorin Hull, and — Hecox, with their wives; and Elijah Rose, a brother-in-law, and his family, and three unmarried daughters. Joined with these were Moses Gunn, Lot Rew, John Barnes, Roger Sprague, Asa Hickox, Benjamin Goss, John Keyes and Nathaniel Norton. The company was from Berkshire County, Mass., and early in the spring of 1789, they left Schenectady for the then wilderness, some traveling by water with the furniture and stores, and the others going with pack horses, following the Indian trails. In May they were joined by Augustus Porter, Thaddeus Keyes, Joel Steele, Eber Norton and Orange Woodruff, who, on their arrival, found the Adams family living in a log house 30x40 feet, which was the first dwelling erected west of Canandaigua after white settlement commenced. To accommodate so large a family with lodgings, berths, one above the other, were swung up on wooden pins driven into the walls. The emigrants fortunately brought on a good stock of provisions and a number of cows; and, wild game being plenty, they were enabled to live comfortably. Dr. Daniel Chapin was the early physician of Bloomfield, and was the second representative of Ontario County in the State Legislature. Amos Bronson was an early settler, and Benjamin Goss was in the new country as early as 1791. He married a daughter of Deacon George Coddington, of Bristol, and theirs was the first marriage in the town, and indeed in the whole Phelps and Gorham Purchase. Nathaniel Norton was from Goshen, Conn., and founded the mills bearing his name, on Ganargwa Creek, in Bloomfield. He was an early Sheriff and representative of the County.—Daniel Gates located in Bloomfield in 1790, and built the first mill on Honeoye Creek. The first death was that of Lot Rue, in 1793. Gen. Fellows put up the first saw mill, on Mud Creek, in 1790, and the first store was opened in 1806, by Norton & Beach. Moses Sperry joined his fortunes to those of the new settlers in 1794, and James Sperry, one of his sons, furnished an interesting collection of reminiscences for the pages of Turner's History of Phelps and Gorham's Purchase, from which we make some extracts. Mr. Sperry says:—"Among the trials of the first settlers, there were none more irritating than the destruction of sheep and swine by the wolves and bears. Often whole flocks of sheep would be slaughtered in the night by the wolves. Bears preyed upon the hogs, that, from necessity, the new settlers were obliged to let run in the woods for shack. One of the Coddings, in Bloomfield, came pretty near having a clinch with one, while in the woods splitting rails. Stooping down to pick up his ax to cut off a sliver, he turned around and found himself confronted by a bear standing on his hind legs, with fore paws extended, to give him a hug. He declined the offer, struck the bear in the head with the ax, but making a glancing stroke, failed to penetrate the skull. The bear fled, bearing off the ax, which was held by the wounded skin and flesh."

"Although the privations of the first settlers were numerous and hard to bear; having often to go without meat, and sometimes bread; obliged to go on horseback to mill, often fifteen and twenty miles; to go with poor shoes and moccasins in winter, and bare-foot in summer; yet, to their praise be it recorded, that they showed considerable zeal in the support of schools for their children. When our family arrived, in March, 1794, there was a school in the north-east corner of the town, kept by Laura Adams. The next spring a seven by ten log school house was put up about one and a half miles south-west of the center, where a school was kept by Lovisa Post. Betsey Sprague kept this school in the winter of '96 and '97. My eldest brother and myself attended this school in the winter, walking two and a half miles through the snow across the openings, not with 'old shoes and clouted' on our feet, but with rags tied on them to go and come in, taking them off in school hours."

Mr. Sperry speaks at some length of a young man, who, in the fall of 1797, came into the neighborhood one mile north of his father's, and introducing himself as a school teacher from the land of steady habits, proposed to the settlers that they form a new district and he would keep the school. The proposition was accepted and all turned out, late in the season, and built another log school house, assisted by the young man, who kept the school during three successive winters. Mr. Sperry says:

"In this school the most of us learned for the first time that the earth is round and turns around on its axis once in twenty-four hours, and revolves around the sun once a year. I shall never forget the teacher's manner of illustrating these facts. For want of a globe, he took an old hat, the crown having 'gone up to seed,' doubled in the old limber rim, marked with chalk a line around the middle for the equator, and another representing the ecliptic, and held it up toward the scholars, with the 'seed end' toward them, and turning it commenced the two revolutions. The simultaneous shout which went up from small to great, was a 'caution' to all young school masters how they introduce new things to young pioneers. Although this school master was a favorite with parents and pupils, the most orthodox thought he was talking of something of which he knew nothing, and was teaching for sound doctrine what was contrary to the common sense of all; for everybody knew that the earth was flat and immovably fixed, and that the sun rose and set every day." The teacher who introduced this "preposterous" doctrine, became Justice of the Peace, a member of the Legislature, a representative in Congress, and was afterwards known as Gen. Micah Brooks, of Brooks' Grove, Livingston County.

The first meeting house in the Genesee country was erected in Bloomfield in 1801, Robert Powers being the builder. It was not finished, although used for religious services, till 1807 and '8. Ancient occupancy was clearly traced at the time of first settlement in Bloomfield. In the north-east corner of the town many gun barrels, locks and stock barrels, of French construction, and tomahawks, were plowed up and used for mending and making agricultural implements. There were many old Indian burying grounds in the town, and when opened, ancient curiosities were discovered. The stones used by the Indians for peeling bark, skinning animals, and pounding their corn, were frequently found and preserved as curiosities by the settlers.

FARMINGTON was formed January 27, 1789, and took its name from Farmington, Conn. Its location is on the north border of the County, west of the center. The surface is nearly level in the south, but in the north it is broken, owing to the drift ridge peculiar to this section of country, which rise 50 to 100 feet above the general surface. Toward the north and west the declivities are steep, but in the south they run off into gradual slopes. The streams are Mud and Beaver Creeks and Black Brook. A strip of land across the south part, embracing about three tier of lots, has a clay soil. A marshy section lies north of this, and yet farther north the soil is a gravelly loam, very productive, with good proportions of arable meadow and pasture lands throughout the town. The amount of money expended for common school purposes in Farmington for the year 1866-7, was $4,472.92; the amount apportioned $761; the value of school property, $5,590, and the average daily attendance 200.

New Salem (p. v.) is a small village of about 200 inhabitants, in the north part of the town. It contains about thirty houses, a church (Methodist Episcopal), and several shops. About half a mile east of New Salem are two churches, occupied respectively by the Orthodox and Hicksite branches of the Friends' Society. Both are large societies. In the south-east part of the town there is another flourishing Hicksite church. Brownville, formerly Norton's Mills post office, is a hamlet, as is East Farmington. West Farmington is a post office, and Farmington, (p. v.), in the south-west corner of the town, is a small station on the N. Y. C. R. R. At Brownville there was formerly a woolen factory, which has been discontinued.

Fine crops of grain are raised in this town, and it is also devoted to grazing. Farmington was the first sale made by Phelps and Gorham, the purchasers being Nathaniel Comstock, Benjamin Russell, Abraham Lapham, Edmund Jenks, Jeremiah Brown, Ephraim Fish, Nathan Herendeen, Nathan Aldrich, Stephen Smith, Benjamin Rickenson, William Baker, and Dr. Daniel Brown. The deed was given to Nathan Comstock and Benjamin Russell. All except Russell, Jenks, J. Brown, Fish, Rickenson, Baker and Smith, became settlers on the purchase. In 1789, Nathan Comstock, with two sons, Otis and Darius, and Robert Hathaway, came from Adams, Berkshire County, Mass., a part of them by the water route, landing at Geneva, with their provisions, and a part by land with a horse and some cattle. When the overland party arrived within 15 miles of Seneca Lake, a calf was added to their stock, which Otis Comstock carried on his back that distance. Arriving on the new purchase, they built a cabin, cleared four acres and sowed the ground to wheat. Their horse died, and Darius was obliged to act as a pack horse, going through the woods to Geneva once a week, where he purchased provisions and carried them twenty miles on his back, to their home in the wilderness. When winter approached the party returned to Massachusetts, leaving Otis Comstock to care for the stock during the winter, with no neighbors, other than the Indians and wild beasts, nearer than Boughton Hill and Canandaigua. In Feb., 1790, Nathan Comstock, with his large family, accompanied by several others, set out from Adams, Mass., for Farmington, and during the same year the little colony was increased by the addition of about twenty-five others. Many of these pioneers were Friends, and about 1794 a meeting was organized, being the first, and, for a long period, the only one west of Utica. The first birth was that of Welcome Herendeen, in 1790; the first marriage that of Otis Comstock and Huldah Freeman, in 1792, and the first death that of Elijah Smith, in 1793. Jacob and Joseph Smith built a grist mill in 1793, and the first saw mill, in 1795. Wheat was harvested in 1790. The stump mortar was the main dependence in preparing their grain for bread. In the fall of 1790, the clearings had been greatly increased, and considerable fields of wheat were sown. Nathan Aldrich having raised some seed wheat that season, Welcome Herendeen worked for him thirteen days for two bushels and a half, sowed it, and when relating the story in after years, having become owner of broad acres of wheat fields, used to remark that he never had to buy any wheat after that. The first settlers of Farmington brought with them apple seeds and peach and plum pits, and soon had bearing orchards. For years the new settlers in distant neighborhoods went there for apples, which were a great luxury in those primitive days. Farmington and Bloomfield cider, apples and apple sauce, was a great treat throughout the Holland Purchase in those times. The first frame building was put up by Joseph Smith and James D. Fish, of Canandaigua, for an ashery, on the farm of Welcome Herendeen. The first frame barn was built by Annanias McMillen for Isaac Hathaway, in 1793. The same year McMillen put up the grist mill before referred to, on Ganargwa Creek, for Jacob and Joseph Smith. Settlers were known to come forty miles to this mill. Not a vestige of it now remains. Dr. Stephen Aldridge was the first physician. Nowhere in all the newly settled region was success so uniform and unparalleled as in Farmington. The wholesome discipline and upright example of the Society of Friends preserved the settlement from an excessive use of spirituous liquors, and from other harmful indulgences, while the fruits of their proverbial industry and economy gave the town the pre-eminence it now enjoys.

GORHAM was formed Jan. 27, 1789, as "Easton." The name was changed to "Lincoln," April 17, 1806, and to Gorham, April 6, 1807. Hopewell was taken off in 1822, and a part of Canandaigua was annexed in 1824. It lies on the east shore of Canandaigua Lake, south-east of the center of the County, and has a rolling surface, the ridges rising in gradual slopes to a height of 20 to 200 feet above the valleys. Flint Creek is the principal stream. The soil in the east part is chiefly a gravelly loam, while in the west it consists of clay, and is generally fertile and productive. The town was named in honor of Nathaniel Gorham.

Gorham, (p. v.,) formerly called "Bethel," three miles from Gorham Station on the Canandaigua & Elmira R. R., contains three churches and about 300 inhabitants. Reed's Corners (p. v.) contains three churches and about 25 houses. The Town Fair Grounds, nicely enclosed, and containing suitable buildings, are located here. Rushville, (p. v.) lies partly in the town of Gorham and partly in the town of Potter, Yates County. It is an incorporated village and contains about 800 inhabitants. There are four churches already in the place, and the Methodist Episcopal society is erecting a fine building at an estimated cost of $18,000. A hotel, several dry goods stores, a foundry, steam grist mill, boot and shoe stores, and a cabinet manufactory, comprise the business of the town.

There are now six churches in town. James Wood made the first settlement, at Reed's Corners, in 1789, and in 1790 a few settlers began to drop in along the route from Canandaigua to Geneva. In July of that year there were in town the families of Daniel Gates, Daniel Warren, — Sweet, — Platt, Samuel Day and Israel Chapin, Jr., who had commenced the erection of mills upon the Outlet. Daniel Gates, Sr., was the first collector of taxes in the town. Among numerous other settlers in 1796-7 was Capt. Frederick Follet, whose adventures bordered on the marvelous. He was an early settler of the Wyoming valley, and, at one time, in company with four others, was attacked by the Indians, within sight of Wilkesbarre Fort. Three of his companions were murdered and scalped. Mr. Follet was pierced by two balls, one through each shoulder, stabbed nine times with spears, scalped, and, but for the appearance of aid from the fort, would undoubtedly have been despatched with the tomahawk. His case was considered hopeless, but the fort surgeon, Dr. William Hooker Smith, did all in his power to save his life, and was ultimately successful. Capt. Follet afterward entered the naval service, was captured, taken to Halifax and confined in a dungeon six months; was released, twice recaptured, but finally returned to his native place, Dalton, Berkshire County, Mass., whence he removed to Gorham. It is a singular coincidence that his eldest son who entered the navy as midshipman in 1812, was captured on board the Chesapeake in her engagement with the Shannon, and was also imprisoned six months in the same dungeon previously occupied by his father. Capt. Follet's posterity were quite numerous, and all rose to honorable and useful positions in life, one of his sons, Orrin Follet, having been a member of the legislature, and another, Frederick Follet, having been at one time one of the Board of Canal Commissioners of this State. The first tavern in Gorham was opened in 1800, at Reed's Corners, by William Sherwood. The first grist mill was built by Levi Benton, the first saw mill by Buckley &

Craft, in 1807, and the first school was taught by Timothy Moore in 1802.

The amount of school money expended in 1866-7 was $3,625.30; the amount apportioned $921.67; the average daily attendance 237, and the value of school property $4,505.

HOPEWELL was formed from Gorham, March 29, 1822, and is an interior town, lying east of the center of the County. The principal streams are Canandaigua Outlet, Fall Creek and Fall Brook. The surface varies from a level to a rolling country, and has a general inclination toward the north. The soil is a sandy and gravelly loam in the west; and the same, intermixed with clay, in the centre and east.

Chapinville, (p. v.) a station on the N. Y. C. R. R., contains a church and about 30 dwellings. Hopewell Centre (p. v.) contains a church and about 25 dwellings, and Hopewell is a post office.

Settlement was commenced in this town at about the same time as in Gorham. Among the first settlers were Daniel Gates, Daniel Warner, ——— Sweet, Ezra Platt, Samuel Day, George and Israel Chapin, Jr., Frederick Follet, Benj. Wells and Thomas Sawyer, mostly from Massachusetts, and William Wyckoff from Pennsylvania. The first child, Benj. Wells, Jr., was born Feb. 4, 1791. Calvin Bacon taught the first school in 1792. The first tavern was kept by Ezra Platt, and the first mill was built by Oliver Phelps and Israel Chapin in 1789. There are five churches in town; the first (Presbyterian) having been organized in 1808.

The amount of money expended for school purposes in this town in 1866-7, was $2,280.21; the amount apportioned, $806.19; the average daily attendance, 226, and the value of school property $5,585.

MANCHESTER was formed from Farmington, March 31, 1821, as "Burt," but the name was changed April 16, 1822. The town lies on the north border of the County, east of the center, and has a level surface in the south, while irregular sand and gravel ridges of the drift formation occupy the north part. Canandaigua Outlet, Fall Creek and Black Brook, are the chief streams. Hydraulic limestone is quarried to some considerable extent at various points along the Outlet. The soil is a gravelly loam, and for fertility is unsurpassed by any section of the State. There are a number of flouring mills in town, which do an extensive local business.

Clifton Springs, (p. v.) is a flourishing village on the N. Y. C. R. R., and is situated in the east part of the town. It was incorporated in 1859, and contains about 450 inhabitants. At this place are the celebrated Sulphur Springs, which have made Clifton a place of great resort for invalids, while the natural beauty of the village and surrounding country has drawn thither the tourist and the pleasure seeker. A hotel was erected here as a dispensary, in 1806, and a Water-cure was established in 1850 by a stock company, with a capital of $45,000. A commodious building, capable of accommodating 150 patients, was erected, but has now given place to an immense brick structure with greatly increased facilities. The grounds are beautifully laid out with lawns, ponds, walks, etc., and the place presents unusual attractions to the invalid. Two kinds of springs are connected with the institution, the fresh water and White Sulphur Springs, the former containing carbonic acid gas in large quantities. The water of the Sulphur Spring was analyzed by Dr. Chilton in 1852, with the following result, in grains to one quart:

Sulphate of lime,	17.30	grs.
“ magnesia,	4.12	“
“ soda,	1.94	“
Carbonate of lime,	2.42	“
“ magnesia,	3.28	“
Chloride of sodium,	2.32	“
“ calcium,	1.02	“
“ magnesia,	1.02	“
Organic matter,	trace.
Total,	33.42

Hydrosulphuric and carbonic acids are also found in small quantities. An extensive Air Cure has just been established by a stock company, with a paid up cash capital of $75,000. The buildings formerly known as the Clifton Springs Hotel, situated at the head of Main street, in beautiful grounds, comprising about thirty acres, have been purchased, and extensive additions made thereto. The main feature of this institution is the use of the Compressed Air Baths, a method of treatment but lately introduced into this country. Special attention was directed to it by observing the effects wrought upon persons descending in the modern Diving Bell, in which the air is condensed according to the depth to which it descends. It was noticed, among other things, that persons seriously affected with deafness, could hear distinctly while subject to the pressure. Accordingly experiments were commenced about thirty years ago, the results of which were published in Germany and France, and they were so satisfactory in many types of disease, that establishments were opened in the principal cities in those countries. They still continue in operation and are now being introduced into Canada and the United States. As the system is comparatively new and unknown, it may be interesting to our readers to state that the Air Bath consists essentially of an iron compartment, large enough to contain eight or ten persons, with an entrance door lighted with plate glass, in which the pressure is regulated to any required density by means of valves. The air is forced by a steam engine into a Purifier, where all impurities are removed by proper chemical agents, and is conducted thence by a pipe into the bath room, where it passes off through a safety valve. The amount of pure air thus passing through the room is from fifty to one hundred cubic feet per minute, and a constant supply of pure air, of double density, is thus secured for as long a time as is deemed necessary for the good of the patient. The Air Cure went into operation about the 1st of May, 1867, and is meeting with flattering success. There are several extensive vineyards near the village of Clifton. Manchester is a post village of 374 inhabitants, and Manchester Center is also a post village, containing about 20 houses. Shortsville (p. v.) on the N. Y. C. R. R., is a thriving town, possessing considerable importance on account of its manufacturing interests. It is situated on the Canandaigua Outlet, which here affords no inconsiderable water power. The manufacture of seed drills and plaster sowers is carried on extensively, one company turning out about 400 yearly. This company holds patents on the Brown, Empire, and Jessup drills, considered the best in use, and gives employment to a number of mechanics. About 150 tons of castings are turned out annually at this place. A company is also engaged in the manufacture of an Improved Potato Digger. Plows, cultivators, spokes, and general wood work, are also important items in the business of this growing village. There is quite an extensive foundry in operation, also a woolen factory and paper mill. A large establishment for the manufacture of printing, writing and wrapping paper, is being erected the present year. A new school building, neatly and substantially constructed, is being put up, and a graded school will be established. There is one church (Presbyterian,) in the village. Port Gibson, (p. v.) is on the Erie Canal, and is the only point where that important public work touches the County. It contains about 50 houses, one church, two stores, and a number of shops. An extensive steam planing mill and stave factory, and a large malt house, are situated on the canal. Gypsum, (p. o.) formerly called Plainsville, is a small settlement, containing about 15 houses, a flouring mill, capable of manufacturing 50 bbls. per diem, a plaster-mill and a saw-mill.

$6,335.10 was expended in the town of Manchester for school purposes in 1866-7. The amount apportioned was $1,157.71, and the average daily attendance 396. The school property is valued at $13,742.

Settlement commenced in Manchester, as early as 1793, Stephen Jared, Joel Phelps and Joab Gillett, being the first settlers. Nathan Pierce, from Berkshire, settled in 1795, and put up a log house, with floors of split bass wood, and destitute of gable ends, doors or windows. The wild beasts were his only neighbors, and they were noted for their many annoyances. Theophilus Short erected the first mill, at Shortsville, in 1804, the first store was opened by Nathan Barlow, and the first school was taught by Elam Crane in 1800. Joshua Van Fleet was one of the earliest settlers. He was an officer in the Revolutionary war, was the first supervisor of Manchester, a Judge, magistrate and member of the Legislature from Ontario. James Stewart was the first physician. Peleg Redfield, an early settler, in his reminiscences says: "It was pretty easy for young men to secure farms in the earliest years of settlement. I knew many who received a dollar a day for their labor, and bought land for twenty-five cents per acre." Rev. David Irish preached in this town in 1797, and in Feb. 1800, a society was formed, but the first legally organized society was that of the Baptists, in 1804. Ebenezer Pratt, Joseph Wells and Jeremiah Dewey were the first trustees.

Among later events, Manchester is noted as having been the scene of the birth of Mormonism. Joseph Smith, father of the prophet, Joseph Smith, Jr., was from New Hampshire, and first settled near Palmyra, Wayne county, but in 1819 occupied some land on "Stafford Street," in the town of Manchester. "Mormon Hill," called by the Mormons the "Hill of Shim," and locally known as "Gold Bible Hill," is on the road from Manchester village to Palmyra, and is in the town of Manchester. The father of the prophet was a Universalist, and subsequently a Methodist, and is described as having been a smatterer in Scriptural knowledge, credulous, indolent, a money digger and a believer in the marvelous. Mrs. Smith was a woman of strong, but uncultivated intellect, artful and cunning; and the first intimations that a prophet was to spring from that household came from her. Their son Alva, was originally destined to be the introducee of the new creed, and was pointed out by the father and mother as the chosen one. But Alva's spiritual nature was overbalanced by his carnal appetite; he ate too many green turnips, sickened and died. The mantle then descended on Joseph Smith, Jr. "Joe" was a loungee, idler, and, according to the accounts given of him, was not altogether free from vicious habits, while his intellectual ability was below the ordinary. But the embryo prophet was possessed of some of his mother's ambition, and, after catching a spark of Methodist fire at a camp meeting, in Vienna, he became a passable exhorter. "Mormon Hill," had long been designated as the depository of hidden treasure, and old Joseph had often dug there while young Joseph accompanied his father in his midnight delvings, and witnessed the incantations of the spirits that guarded it. There is but little doubt that the primitive design of the Smiths was to make money, and that the idea of founding a new sect was an after thought. The account of the discovery of the gold plates, as given by Joe Smith himself, is briefly as follows: The prophet Joseph was directed by an angel where to find the gold plates, by excavations of the place now called "Mormon Hill," and was compelled by the angel, much against his will, to be the interpreter of this sacred record, and to publish it to the world. He was further instructed that the plates contained a record of the ancient inhabitants of the country, "engraved by Mormon, son of Nephi." That on the box containing the plates would be found "a pair of large spectacles, the stones or glass of which were opaque to all but the prophet;" that "these belonged to Mormon, the engraver of the plates, and without them they could not be read." Oliver Cowdry, a school teacher on Stafford street, was an intimate of the Smiths, and was identified with the whole matter. Martin Harris, a worthy farmer of Palmyra, a man given to religious enthusiasm and the running after new creeds, was wrought upon by the Smiths, till his sympathy was enlisted, and he gave out that himself and Cowdry were the chosen amanuenses to transcribe the new Bible, as it was interpreted by Smith, who, to guard against profane curiosity, declared that no one, not even his chosen co-operators, could be permitted to see them under penalty of instant death. Harris had never seen the plates, but the glowing accounts of their massive richness stimulated other than spiritual hopes, and he got a silversmith to estimate their value, taking as a basis the prophet's account of their size. Harris' wife was a rank infidel as regarded the whole affair, and she managed somehow to get possession of over one hundred pages of the manuscript and burn it up. It was agreed by the Smiths, Cowdry and Harris, not to reprint it, as the "evil spirit would get up a story that the second translation did not agree with the first." The after thought before alluded to, the founding of a new sect, seems to have been at the suggestion of one Sidney Rigdon, of Ohio, who made his appearance about the time the book was issued from the press. He had been a Baptist Elder, but had lost his standing in that society, and became the projector of the new sect. Joe Smith began to prophesy, Mrs. Smith assumed the air and dignity of the mother of a prophet, and one after another enthusiast was drawn in to swell the proportions of the disgraceful swindle. Then occurred the hegira to Kirtland, then to Nauvoo, and, after a brief stay in Missouri, on over the Rocky Mountains to Utah, where dwellings, temples, cities and a State have been erected on its rotten and unstable foundations. Crooked Brook, the stream in which the baptism of Smith's mother and others of the first saints took place, runs through the north-west part of the town, and the occasion when these baptisms took place are remembered by many who are now living.

NAPLES, originally called "Watkinstown," and by the Indians Nun-da-wa-o, "Great Hill," was formed Jan. 27, 1789, as "Middletown," but the name was changed in April, 1806. Italy was taken off in 1815, and a part of Springwater in 1816. It is the extreme south town of the County, and the surface is a hilly an elevated upland, broken by the deep and narrow valleys of Canandaigua and Honeoye Inlets and Grindstone Creek. The hill summits are 600 to 1,000 feet above the lake surface, and 1,300 to 1,700 feet above tide. The declivities bordering on the streams in general are very steep, High Point and Hatch Hill being the highest summits. Upon the hills the soil consists of clay and gravel mixed with disintegrated shale and slate; and in the valleys it is a rich, gravelly loam, mixed with alluvium. Considerable attention is given to fruit growing. Peaches are raised quite extensively, and the cultivation of grapes forms an important and successful feature in the business of the town. In the southern and western parts the hillsides are everywhere dotted with thrifty and beautiful vineyards, and their cultivation is proved to be highly profitable. The Isabella and Catawba are the principal varieties cultivated. Wool growing and the breeding of fine sheep is also receiving a great deal of attention.

Naples (p. v.) on the Canandaigua Inlet, four miles from the lake, is a beautiful and flourishing town of 700 inhabitants. It contains four churches, three grist mills, an iron foundry and manufactory of agricultural implements, and a carding factory. A valuable hay fork is also manufactured here. The Naples Academy was founded in 1860, and is capable of accommodating 200 to 250 pupils. The school is located in the central part of the village, and is in a flourishing condition. The building is of brick, of handsome architectural design and proportion, and is surrounded by ample and beautiful grounds. A stage line connects Naples with Woodville, at the head of Canandaigua Lake, whence connection is had with Canandaigua by the daily steamers. The trip from Canandaigua to Woodville affords a delightful variety of beautiful and picturesque scenery, and will well repay the traveler who makes it. Along the west side of the lake numerous cabins are to be seen nestling among the shrubbery near the verge of the water, which are the summer retreats of various Sportsmen's Clubs, who annually repair thither in search of game. The ruffed grouse, duck, and various kinds of small game, are abundant in the proper season, and the lake abounds in trout, black bass, white fish and pickerel. Seneca Point, ten miles above Canandaigua, is a charming summer retreat, reached by steamer four times a day. A new hotel has recently been opened at this place, and there are also mineral springs, delightful groves for pic nics, excellent facilities for rowing and bathing, glens, walks, and everything necessary to make the place attractive and pleasant.

William Watkins, of Berkshire, Mass., from whom the town took its original name, was one of the original purchasers from Phelps and Gorham, and commenced a settlement there as early as 1789-90. In Feb., 1790, Samuel, Reuben, and Levi Parish, with their families, came in; and, in the following April, Nathan and William Watkins, John Johnson, Jonathan Lee, and William Clark, with their families, numbering thirty persons, also became settlers. The Duke Liancourt visited the settlement in 1795, while on his way from Bath to Canandaigua, at which time it seems there was a considerable settlement. He speaks of "Capt. Metcalf," with whom he staid over night, his "lands, inn and saw mill," and states that a school had been started. The first birth was that of Phineas T. Lee, and the first marriage that of Benj. Clark and Thankful Watkins in 1795. The first saw mill was put up in 1792, by Benj. Clark and Jabez Metcalf. Susannah Parish taught the first school, in 1792. Myron H. Clark, Ex-Governor of the State of New York, was born in this town Oct. 23, 1806. Rev. Zadock Hunn preached the first sermon, in June, 1792. There are now five churches in town.

The present value of school property in Naples is $4,965; the amount of public money appropriated in 1866-7 was $1,004.68; the school expenses $3,496.55, and the average daily attendance 272.

PHELPS.—The original name of this town was "Sullivan," but in 1796, at the request of Oliver Phelps, the original proprietor of the land, its name was changed, and as a bonus for the honor, he gave the inhabitants an entertainment at Oaks' Tavern. The town was formed in 1796, under the act of Jan. 27, 1789. A part was annexed to Lyons, Wayne County, April 11, 1823. It is the north-east corner town of the County, and has a rolling surface, the ridges rising in gradual slopes 20 to 100 feet above the valleys, the highest point being 300 feet above Canandaigua Lake. The soil in the east is a sandy loam with a clay subsoil; in the north a mixed sandy and clayey loam, and in the west a sandy and coarse gravelly loam. It is exceedingly fertile and productive. Canandaigua Outlet, which is the principal stream, flows, east and north, through the centre. Extensive quarries of gypsum and water limestone lie along its course, and the Onondaga and corniferous limestones are likewise quarried in town. The amount of money expended during the school year of 1866-7, was $8,481.79, the amount apportioned being $2,022.58. The value of school property was $16,425, and the average daily attendance 630.

Phelps. (p. v.) formerly called "Vienna," is located on Flint Creek, near its junction with Canandaigua Outlet. It was incorporated Jan. 2, 1855, and is now a growing and beautiful village. It contains a flourishing union school, a newspaper office, a bank of deposit, and six churches. There are seven malt houses in the village, with an aggregate capacity of 250,000 bushels. The grain is mostly drawn from the surrounding country, and the malt is marketed principally at New York and Philadelphia, though Baltimore is also becoming a good market for the article. Quite an extensive paper mill for the manufacture of printing and wrapping paper from straw, under the new hydrostatic process, is situated on the Canandaigua Outlet, just outside of the village limits. There are also five flouring mills with about 15 run of stone, two plaster mills, a cheese factory, an iron foundry and manufactory of agricultural implements, a tannery, soap factory and yeast cake factory, in the place. It numbers about 1,500 inhabitants, and is situated on the N. Y. C. R. R., in the midst of as fertile and beautiful a tract of country as can be found anywhere in Central or Western New York. The beds of gypsum which lie on the banks of Canandaigua Outlet from Phelps to Gypsum, a distance of five miles, form no inconsiderable source of wealth to the town. Orleans (p. v.) is situated on Flint Creek, and contains a flouring mill, a slate flour mill, for grinding slate used in the manufacture of plastic roofing, a saw mill and two churches. There are extensive slate quarries along Flint Creek, which have only recently been opened. The population is about 200. Oaks' Corners, (p. v.) on the N. Y. C. R. R., contains about 20 houses, and one church, (Presbyterian,) which was raised in 1804, being the first house of worship in the town. The culture of raspberries is extensively carried on at this place.

John Decker Robinson, of Claverack, Columbia County, the first settler, came to the town of Phelps, then Sullivan, in 1788, and purchased lot No. 14, in No. 11, in the first range of townships, which was surveyed to contain 320 acres. The wholesale price of land was 2s. per acre; but the surveyor was allowed to deviate from that to a limited extent and add a trifle when the quality of the land seemed to justify it. In the exercise of that privilege he sold the land to Mr. Robinson at 2s. 6d. per acre, but a mistake of 170 acres in the survey, in the purchaser's favor, reduced the price to 2s. per acre. The purchase price amounted to $100, and Mr. Robinson paid it by building for Mr. Phelps a house at Canandaigua, partly of logs and partly framed, valued at that amount. This purchase embraced a large part of the old village of Vienna, including some of the finest land in the whole County. In 1789, Mr. Robinson's family came to the new country, and, shortly after, three or four others followed them. Harry H. Robinson, son of John Decker Robinson, was the first white child born in the town. In 1791, following the lead of Robinson and the Grangers, came Jonathan Oaks, Seth Deane, Oliver Humphrey and Elias Dickinson. Jonathan Oaks was the primitive landlord, building as early as 1794 the large framed tavern at Oaks' Corners, which is yet standing in a tolerably good state of preservation. It was considered a very aristocratic establishment, as it rose up among the surrounding log cabins, and its enterprising builder was looked upon as being a good way in advance of the times. It was the second framed tavern west of Geneva, and probably there were not then half a dozen framed buildings west of that place. About the year 1816, the celebrated Race Course was established on the broad sweep of level ground on the Oaks farm, which passengers on the cars may observe in the rear of the church. For years it was a great gathering place for sportsmen; race horses coming from the south, Long Island and New Jersey, to there test their speed. Seth Deane was the pioneer on the present site of Phelps village, and he put up the primitive grist mill and saw mill upon Flint Creek. Rev. Solomon Goodale was the first preacher of the Gospel,—preaching in school houses and dwellings before any churches were built. At the raising of the Presbyterian church at Oaks' Corners, Cotton Dickinson was instantly killed by a falling stick of timber. Dr. Joel Prescott was the first physician and one of the first supervisors. The first Town Meeting was held at Oaks' Corners, in 1796. Jonathan Oaks was chosen Supervisor and Solomon Goodale, Town Clerk. The first merchant in town was John R. Green, who commenced business at Oaks' Corners. Orrin Redfield was the first merchant in Vienna (Phelps). A post office was established at the latter place in 1812, a sum being raised by subscription sufficient to defray the expense of carrying the mail on horseback once a week to and from Geneva. The first marriage was that of Joseph Annin—afterward Judge Annin—and Miss Read, daughter of Seth Read; Thomas Sisson, Esq., tying the silken knot. The bride's father was obstinately opposed to his daughter's marrying the man of her choice, and forbade him entering the house. But, one evening about twilight, young Annin happening to pass the house in company with Squire Sisson, Miss Read, who was milking the cows near the highway, put her pail aside for the time being, the parties stood up under the spreading boughs of a neighboring apple tree, and were then and there solemnly and legally made man and wife. The Justice and the bridegroom then proceeded on their way, and Mrs. Annin finished milking the cow which she commenced as Miss Read.

The early settlers in Phelps, as in other sections of the then wilderness, were not a little troubled by the Indians and wild beasts, their constant neighbors. Mrs. Whitmore, who lived to a good old age, used to relate many interesting incidents, and, among others, the following: On one occasion, all the members of the family except her, had left home, to be absent during the day and succeeding night. During the day an Indian, partly intoxicated, came in and demanded bread. She informed him there was none baked, and to convince him exhibited the dough she had prepared for baking. He told her she lied, drew his knife, and, flourishing it over her, declared he would have some bread. On this she grasped the cheese tongs, the only weapon of defence in reach, and made toward her copper colored antagonist, when he beat a precipitate retreat and never troubled her again, though she retired to her lonely couch that night in intense fear lest he should repeat his visit. In the night she heard a step in the shed where stood the cheese press, and was sure that the frightened brave had gained courage and was returning. The noise outside soon ceased, but she did not dare to go to the door till morning, when she found that her cheese had been stolen, not by an Indian, but by a bear.

RICHMOND was formed in 1796, under the act of Jan. 27, 1789, as "Pittstown." Its name was changed to "Honeoye," April 6, 1808, and to Richmond, April 11, 1815. A portion of Canadiee was annexed April 30, 1836, and parts of Bristol and South Bristol in 1848; but the latter were restored in 1852. It lies on the west border of the County, south of the centre, and consists of a portion of land nearly square, lying near the foot of Honeoye Lake, and a narrow strip extending along the east shore of that lake and its inlet, to the south border of the County.—This narrow section was added on account of its position, as high ridges of mountain shut it off from the business centres of both Canadiee and South Bristol. The centre is occupied by a broad valley, opening towards the north, and surrounded on the three remaining sides by hills from 50 to 200 feet high. The summits of the southern part, which is extremely hilly, rise 500 feet above the surface of the lake. Honeoye and Hemlock Outlets, and Egypt Brook, are the principal streams. On the lowlands the soil is clay, and on the hills clay mixed with sandy loam. Much attention is given to improving the breeds of sheep and cattle, and it is the largest wool growing town in the County. The value of school property in this town is $4,375; the amount of money appropriated for the public schools for the year 1866-7 was $640.90; the amount of school expenses, $2,035.47, and the average daily attendance, 155.

Honeoye, (p. v.) at the foot of the lake of the same name, is the business centre of the town, and a place of considerable activity and importance. It contains a church, furnace, machine shop, several mills and stores, and has about 300 population. Richmond

Mills is a post office, and Richmond Centre is a hamlet, containing a church and a few houses. Allen's Hill, (p. o.) named after Nathaniel Allen, one of the first settlers, contains two churches and about 20 houses.

There are six churches in town. Settlement commenced in 1789. In April, 1787, three young men,—Gideon Pitts, James Goodwin and Asa Simmons—left their native place, Dighton, Mass., to seek a new home in the wilderness. They located at what is now Elmira, and during the summer planted and raised a crop of Indian corn. On returning to their native town, their favorable representations induced the formation of the "Dighton Company," for the purpose of buying lands of Phelps and Gorham, as soon as the latter had perfected their title. Calvin Jacobs and Gideon Pitts were deputed to attend the treaty and select the tract. As soon as the townships were surveyed, the company purchased 46,080 acres, embracing the most of what was afterwards included in the towns of Richmond, Bristol, and the fraction of number nine on the east side of Canandaigua Lake. The title was taken in the name of Calvin Jacobs and John Smith. In 1789, Capt. Peter Pitts, his son William, Deacon George Coddling and his son George, Calvin Jacobs and John Smith, came to the new purchase and surveyed what is now Richmond and Bristol. Rev. John Smith, one of the party, on their arrival at Canandaigua, preached the first sermon there, and the first in all the Genesee country, save those by the Indian missionaries, and the chaplain at Fort Niagara, and at Brant's Indian Church, at Lewistown. The lands were apportioned by lottery, and Capt. Pitts drew for his share 3,000 acres, at the foot of Honeoye Lake, embracing the flats, and a cleared field which had been the site of an Indian village destroyed by Sullivan's army. The improvement of the tract was begun by Gideon and William Pitts, in 1790, and for three years the Pitts family was the only one in town. Their house being on the Indian trail from Canandaigua to the Genesee River, which was also the primitive road traveled by white settlers, it enjoyed a wide notoriety in those early days. Louis Phillipe, when from a lonely wanderer in the wilds of America he had risen to his throne, remembered and spoke of having spent a night in the log house of Capt. Pitts. The first training in the Genesee country was held at this place, the soldiers being a militia company commanded by Capt. William Wadsworth. Pitt's Flats was for many years afterward a popular training ground. Nathaniel Allen established the first blacksmith shop, at Allen's Hill. He was subsequently Sheriff of Ontario County, Member of Assembly, Army Paymaster in 1812, and Member of Congress in 1819. Capt. Pitts opened the first tavern, and the first saw and grist mills were built by Thomas Morris in 1795. Drs. Lemuel and Cyrus Chipman, who came in 1795, were enterprising and public spirited men. Lemuel Chipman was an early member of the Legislature, Judge of Ontario County, twice elector of President and Vice President, and a State Senator.—Roswell Turner was also an early and active settler, and his daughter, Mrs. Farnum, says in her reminiscences: "I remember very well, that when early deaths occurred in our family, no seasoned boards could be obtained for coffins, short of taking down a partition of our log house." On "Phelps' Flats," at the foot of Honeoye Lake, many brass kettles, beads, etc., were ploughed up by the first settlers. The Indians used to relate that the approach of Sullivan's army was undiscovered by them till they were seen coming over the hill near where Capt. Pitts afterward built his house.—They were quietly braiding their corn and boiling their succotash, and all took to flight. One Indian admitted that he never looked back till he reached Buffalo Creek. The bears and wolves greatly annoyed the early settlers. The former would steal and devour their swine in broad daylight, and the latter were a terror to travelers. On one occasion, after unsuccessfully attacking a traveler, they ran off into the woods, where they had a fight among themselves, and destroyed one of their own number.

SENECA was formed in 1793, under the act of Jan. 27, 1789. It is the south-east corner town of the County, and lies on the west shore of Seneca Lake. The surface is rolling, the ridges rising 20 to 200 feet above the valleys. The bluffs which form the lake shore rise about 100 feet above the lake level. Flint and Keshong Creeks, and Burrall's and Castle Brooks are the principal streams. The soil, which is a deep, rich loam, consisting of sand, gravel, and clay mixed, the gravel predominating on the ridges, is admirably adapted to the business of the nursery, which has become one of the leading pursuits of the town. Over 2,500 acres of nursery are under cultivation in the immediate vicinity of Seneca. The land is well adapted to the raising of grain, which attains a most luxuriant growth. Commerce and manufactures are also receiving considerable attention.

Geneva, (p. v.) the principal village, was incorporated April 4, 1806; has now over 5,000 inhabitants, and is one of the most thriving and beautiful towns in the State. Probably no other place in the country has been more justly and enthusiastically praised by tourists for beauty of scenery and situation. It is located at the foot of Seneca Lake, the business portion being mainly on the level ground north, and at the foot of the bluff which forms the lake shore on the west. Along this bluff, its entire length commanding a beautiful view of the lake, extends main street, a broad avenue, finely shaded and lined with elegant mansions, surrounded by luxuriant flower gardens. The evidences of taste and luxury in the grounds, added to the natural beauty of the lake view, forms a charming scene, which, having been once viewed by the traveler, will not soon be forgotten. Geneva contains two banks, two newspaper offices, an extensive furniture manufactory, two carriage manufactories, a large elevator, foundry and other important establishments. In matters pertaining to education this town has always stood among the first in the State, and her schools have acquired a wide reputation. The Union School of Geneva, was one of the first established in the State, and for many years was taken as a model for others. The plan was proposed by that great promoter of education among the people, Francis Dwight, and although strenuously opposed at the outset, it demonstrated its superiority, and its former enemies became its most earnest friends and supporters. The school accommodates about 800 pupils daily and employs 14 or 15 teachers. The village schools are graded, and embrace a complete common school and academic course. The Walnut Hill Seminary, a large boarding school for boys, is beautifully located, and is an excellent and flourishing institution. Beside these there is the Geneva Grammar School, established in 1866, and also several private schools for ladies. Geneva is also the seat of Hobart College, formerly known as Geneva College, which was founded in 1813 as an Academy, and was incorporated in 1825. It was established mainly through the influence of Bishop Hobart, whose name it now bears. A medical department was created in 1834, and in 1841, the Medical College, with its spacious lecture rooms and laboratory, was erected, the State paying $15,000 toward the edifice. The trustees and members of the College Faculty are generally members of the Protestant Episcopal church, but the College is open to all, and free, no charge being made for tuition and room rent. The College Faculty is composed of a President, six Professors and a Tutor, and the Medical Department has a Faculty of six Professors. The College grounds are beautifully situated on a bluff, commanding a view of Seneca Lake, and contains about 12 acres, on which there are two large buildings for the use of pupils, a building for the Medical Department, and a handsome stone chapel, erected at a cost of $12,000 and presented to the College by William B. Douglass. The Geneva Water Cure and Hygienic Institute is finely located near the center of the village, in what was formerly the Geneva Hotel building, erected in 1794. There are seven or eight church edifices in town, including some fine structures, and a costly stone edifice, to be called "The De Lancy Memorial Church," is soon to be erected in memory of Bishop DeLancy. The Young Men's Association was formed in 1860, and incorporated in 1864, since which time it has been in active operation. A library was established in 1861, which now contains about 600 volumes. Connected with it is a reading room, supplied with the leading daily and weekly papers, and home and foreign magazines, both secular and religious. The room is supported by subscriptions of the members, and is a credit both to the Association and the village.

The country in the immediate vicinity of Geneva, presents a charming variety of hill and dale. The land rises from the lake shore in a series of terraces or ridges, whose summits are adorned by fine mansions, embowered among the trees, and whose slopes smile with a profusion of luxuriant grass and grain. The White Springs Farm, owned by Mr. James O. Sheldon, Ex-President of the State Agricultural Society, is one of the finest in the State. Mr. Sheldon is greatly interested in the improvement of stock, and owns one of the most valuable herds in the State. The splendid residence of Judge Foote, and the large and elegant dwelling of Mr. Nehemiah Denton, are noticeable among the many showy buildings in the vicinity of the village. A daily line of steamers connects this place with the upper ports on Seneca Lake. The Geneva and Watkins Steamboat Co., run a passenger boat daily, which connects at Watkins with the Northern Central Railway of Penn., and the Erie Railroad at Elmira. The "Duncan MaGee," owned by Capt. D. Dey, leaves Geneva in the morning, making the trip to Watkins and return the same day, with the same connections as the passenger boat of the other line. Several tugs are employed in towing on the lake. Geneva has water connection with the Pennsylvania coal mines, via Chemung Canal, Junction Canal, and North Branch Canal, of Penn. The tonnage on this route is principally of coal, but considerable lumber is also transported. Watkins is a great coal depot, immense quantities being brought by rail in the winter season, and deposited there, the bulk of which is bituminous coal from the Blossburg mines. The place has also a water connection with the north-east, via Cayuga and Seneca Canal, which is 22 miles long, with the same depth as the Erie, and connects with the latter at Montezuma. Seneca Lake boasts a phenomenon in the shape of a remarkable tree, called "The Wandering Jew," which for many years has floated through the lake, alternating between either end. It is alive, the branches being above water, while the trunk and roots are kept below, probably by the accumulations of earth and stones among the latter. It is traditionally held that the boat which happens to run against "The Wandering Jew," is thereafter fated to all sorts of disaster and to final wreck. One feature of Seneca Lake is the fact that navigation is never obstructed by ice, as it is never known to freeze over. Mrs. Bradford in her well written historical sketch says: "I think we have got back about as far as we can go in our efforts to find the first traces of a settlement at Geneva, when we discover, in June, 1787, 'a solitary log house, and that not finished, inhabited by one Jennings.' But before the close of another year, others had joined him, and Indian traders had begun to settle on the bank of the lake." In the fall of 1788, Geneva had become a pretty brisk place, being the central point for speculators, explorers, and the Lessee Company and their agents. It was the principal seat of the Indian trade for a broad region of country. Horatio Jones was living in a log house, covered with bark, on the bank of the lake, and had a small stock of goods for the Indian trade; Asa Ransom, occupied a hut, and was manufacturing Indian trinkets; Lark Jennings had a log tavern on the bank of the lake, and the Lessee Company had a framed tavern and trading establishment, covered with bark, on the bluff near the lake shore. There was also a cluster of log houses all along the low ground near the lake. All that was done at Geneva prior to 1793, was under the auspices of Reed and Ryckman and the Lessees. The little village which had sprung up there, the scattered settlements in the Lessee towns and upon the Gore, together with that of that strange person, "The Universal Friend," at Jerusalem, constituted a majority of all the population west of Seneca Lake. "The District of Seneca," which, so far as organization was concerned, embraced all the region reaching north to Lake Ontario, held its first town meeting in April, 1793, at the house of Joshua Fairbanks. Ezra Patterson was chosen Supervisor, and Thomas Sisson, Town Clerk. In 1800 the number of persons assessed to work on highways in the town of Seneca, was 290.

The limits of a work of this kind forbid that we should follow out the details of early settlement at Geneva, and a brief review of some of the most noticeable facts must suffice. Herman H. Bogart commenced the practice of law in Geneva in 1797, and he observes that when he came there land speculation was at its height. Board was $4 per week at the hotel; eligible building lots of three-fourths of an acre were sold for $500, and farming lands brought $5 per acre, that were afterward sold for $2 and $3. Mr. Williamson, agent of the Pulteney Estate, had a sloop on the lake, engaged in bringing down lumber; the mail was brought from Albany twice a week, on horseback, and the new place was getting on swimmingly. Other early lawyers were Pollydore B. Wisner, Daniel W. Lewis, Robert W. Stoddard, John Collins and David Hudson. The early merchants, other than those acting under Indian and Lessee occupancy, were Grieve and Moffatt, Samuel Colt, Richard M. Williams, Elijah H. Gordon, Richard M. Bailey, and Abraham Dox. Grieve and Moffatt established the first brewery in all this section of country. Dr. Adams was the early physician. The first grist mill was erected by Cornelius Roberts, and the first saw mill by P. B. Wisner, in 1798. The first marriage was that of Dr.

Joel Prescott and Miss Phila Reed, and the first school was taught by Samuel Wheaton, in 1792. A Presbyterian society was organized in Geneva in 1798, but no church was built till 1811. In 1806, "nineteen persons of full age, belonging to the Protestant Episcopal Church, assembled, and there being no Rector, John Nicholas presided," and Trinity Church was then and there organized. The Rev. Davenport Phelps was the first officiating clergyman. A church was erected in 1808. Wm. Tappan, John and Abraham B. Hall, John Sweeney, Jonathan Doane, Moses Hall, and Jacob and Joseph Backentose were among the earliest mechanics.—Jonathan Doane was the father of Bishop Doane, and erected all the primitive churches. Jacob and Joseph Backentose were the pioneer tailors of the Genesee country, and the time was when to wear a coat from their shop marked the possessor as an aristocrat. Members, before going to Congress or the Legislature, generally got a coat of the "Geneva tailor," but never before election. Col. James Bogart, the early editor of The Geneva Gazette, says: "In 1805, Geneva contained but sixty-eight houses. There were thirty-five on Main street, seven on Seneca street, five on Castle street, two on Genesee street, and one on Pulteney street.—Some of the more important streets of the village were not then laid out." * * * * "It is worthy of remark that the north side of Seneca street, on which there is now (1833) a compact mass of beautiful and substantial buildings, was, long after we commenced the publication of our paper, improved as a mowing field."

The society of Geneva has, from the very first, been noted for high tone of manners and cultivated intellect, and has attracted thither many eminent men. Among the most distinguished residents at the present time are Commodore T. J. Craven, Judge Samuel A. Foote, Gen. Joseph G. Swift, Senator Charles J. Folger, Comptroller Thomas Hillhouse, Gen. M. R. Patrick, Mr. James O. Sheldon, Commodore J. W. Swift and Commodore James Glynn.

Castleton, (Seneca Castle P. O.,) on Flint Creek, in the north-west part, contains two churches and thirty-five houses. Flint Creek, (p. o.,) Half's Corners, (p. o.,) and Stanley's Corners, (p. o.,) are hamlets.

About one and a half miles north-west of Geneva is a beautiful ground called the "Old Castle," where there was an Indian orchard, and where the ground has never been plowed, because of a stipulation to that effect with the Indians in the treaty of purchase. For many years the Indians came at plowing time and watched this ground, to see that the stipulation was not broken. It contains an Indian burial ground, and in one corner the trench of an ancient stockade fortification may be discovered. Many relics—as stone hatchets, arrow heads, pipes, etc., are found in this vicinity.

The amount of money expended for common school purposes in the town in the year 1866-7, was $12,660.90, the amount apportioned being $3,010.73, the value of school property $15,378, and the average daily attendance 1,094.

SOUTH BRISTOL was formed from Bristol, March 8, 1838. It lies upon the west shore of Canandaigua Lake, south-west of the centre of the County. The surface consists of an elevated upland, divided into four ranges by the valleys of Grindstone and Mud Creeks and Egypt Brook. The summits of the ridges rise 1,000 feet above the lake, and the declivities are very steep. The bluffs along the lake shore are 300 to 400 feet high. The soil is a mixture of clay and disintegrated slate, and although it is rich and productive, the hilly nature of the town has tended to retard its cultivation. The value of school property is $4,825. The amount of school expenses for the year 1866-7 was $2,715.33; the amount of public money apportioned, $647.28, and the average daily attendance 176.

South Bristol (p. o.) is a hamlet, and contains a Congregational church, the only church building in town. Boswell's Corners contains a store and about a dozen houses. There is a saw mill and a grist mill near by. Cold Spring is a hamlet. Seneca Point, referred to in another connection, is a popular summer resort. It was originally known as "Wilder's Point," and settlement was commenced there by Gamaliel Wilder, in 1789. An Indian orchard, on the lake shore, at this place, induced him to settle here. This was the only Indian orchard left undestroyed in Sullivan's march, and a few of the old trees are yet standing. Mr. Wilder built the first saw mill, the first grist mill and distillery, at the Point, in 1795. He also put up the first tavern, in 1808. Dr. Hewitt and Geo. Wilder opened the first store, in 1828. Joanna Forbes taught the first school, and Rev. Mr. Rolph was the first settled minister. The first child born was Eli Allen, in 1793.

VICTOR was formed from Bloomfield, May 26, 1812, and is the north-west corner town of the County. The north part is occupied by the drift ridges, which rise 50 to 150 feet above the general surface. Extending across the south part, in a general east and west direction, is a ridge, 100 to 180 feet in height. The chief streams are Irondequoit, Mud, Hog Hollow and Fish Creeks, and Trout Brook. The soil in the central and northern parts is a light, sandy and gravelly loam, but in the south-east it is principally clay. It is particularly adapted to the raising of root crops. Hops are grown to some extent, and considerable attention is paid to improving the breeds of sheep. $3,931.18 was expended for common school purposes during the year 1866-7. The amount of public money appropriated to the town for the same period was $904.63; the average daily attendance being 285. The school property is valued at $7,850.

Victor (p. v.) is a beautiful village near the centre of the town, half a mile from Victor Station, on the N. Y. C. R. R. It was called by the Indians, Ga-o-sa-ga-o, signifying "In the Basswood Country." It contains four churches, a graded district school, and has 510 inhabitants. The Indian village of Gannagaro, which was utterly destroyed by the Marquis de Nonville, was situated near Victor. Fishers (p. o.) is a station on the N. Y. C. R. R., in the west part, and East Victor is a hamlet on Mud Creek.

Settlement was commenced in 1789, by immigrants from Stockbridge, Mass., Enos and Jared Boughton and Jacob Lobdell being among the first. Levi Boughton and Rufus Dryer settled at Boughton Hill, in 1792. The first birth was that of Frederick Boughton, in June, 1791, and the first marriage that of Zebulon Norton and Miss Boughton. Hezekiah Boughton opened the first tavern, at Boughton Hill, in 1792. The first saw mill was built the same year, by Enos and Jared Boughton. Joel Brace was the first practicing physician, and William Bushnell the first permanent merchant. The first town meeting was held in 1813, at which Jacob Lobdell was elected Supervisor; Nathaniel Boughton, Ezra Wilmarth, Selleck Boughton, Assessors; Ezekial Scudder, Elisha Williams, Joseph Brace, Commissioners of Highways; Rufus Dryer, James Upton, Overseers of Poor; Solomon Griswold, Constable and Collector. Few localities in this historic region so abound in interest as Victor Flats, Boughton Hill, and the immediate vicinity. When the pioneers penetrated to this section of the wilderness, they found, among the hills and valleys, rude implements of war and of the chase, charred remains of wigwams, and burial places teeming with the moldering bones of by-gone generations, all evincing that this was a favorite place of the Senecas, who were the original occupants of this beautiful and romantic country. Here they worshipped the "Manitous" of their simple faith, and here they assembled in the "Peace Council," or prepared for battle. Standing on the street of the quiet village, one sees spread out before him an attractive landscape, whose interest is increased by the throng of historic associations connected with the hills and vales that make up the pleasant scene. Over it all swept the proud hosts of the French invader, combatted at every inch by the Indian braves whose Spartan valor could not make up for their deficiency in numbers. Here glared the flames of their rude huts, the watch-fires of the encamping conquerors; and here, too, long after civilization had placed her imprint on the face of Nature, they lingered around the ruins of their former pride and faded glory, until they were thrust away on, on, over the wide desert and mountain barriers, to the shores of the Pacific!

WEST BLOOMFIELD was formed from Bloomfield, Feb. 11, 1833. It lies upon the west border of the County, north of the center. A ridge, 200 to 300 feet high, forming the declivity of a southern terrace, extends across the north part. The surface is gently undulating; the soil a deep, rich, gravelly loam, mixed with clay. In the south there is a spring of carburetted hydrogen gas. Tile and earthenware are manufactured to some extent.

West Bloomfield (p. v.) is a village of about 350 inhabitants, situated one and a half miles south of West Bloomfield Station, on the N. Y. C. R. R. A handsome soldier's monument has been erected here since the war. The town contains two churches, and a number of shops and stores. North Bloomfield (p. v.) on the Honeoye Outlet, and Miller's Corners, in the east part, are also railroad stations. At the former there is a church, a woolen factory, two grist mills and two saw mills; the latter is a hamlet, containing one church, and a few houses.

This town was purchased by Amos Hall, Robert Taft, Nathan Marvin and Ebenezer Curtis, and was settled by them in 1789. Mr. Hall was from Guilford, Conn., and took the first census of Ontario County, in 1790, represented the County in Assembly in 1798, and was Major General of militia in the war of 1812. John P. Sears, Peregrine Gardner, Clark Peck, Jasper Marvin, Samuel Miller, John Algur and S. Thayer, settled in 1789-90. Benjamin Gardner, with his sons John and Peregrine, are supposed by some to have been the first settlers. The first birth was that of Lucinda Gardner, in Sept. 1791. Jasper P. Sears kept the first inn, and Royal Hendee the first store. The first saw mill was built by Ebenezer Curtis; the first grist mill by Reuben Thayer. The first religious service was held in 1793. There are now four churches in town.

The amount expended for school purposes in West Bloomfield for the year 1866-7, was $2,280.93; the amount of public money apportioned, $592.88; the average attendance 153, and the value of school property $2,835.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.—Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 485,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 89, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.—Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 805,439. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.— White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 30, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,674 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, December 7, 1787. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,000 acres.— Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactories. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote, except that citizens between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age need not have paid the tax.

FLORIDA was settled at St. Augustine, in 1565, by Spaniards; was formed from part of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; an act to authorize the President to establish a temporary government was passed March 3, 1819; articles of surrender of East Florida were framed July 10, and of West Florida, July 17, 1821, and it was then taken possession of by General Jackson as Governor. An act for the establishment of a Territorial Government was passed March 30, 1822, and by act of March 3, 1823, East and West Florida were constituted one Territory. Acts to establish its boundary line between Georgia and Alabama were passed May 4, 1832, and March 2, 1831. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it into two Territories, or into a State and Territory, an act for its admission into the Union was passed March 3, 1845. Area 59,268 square miles, or 37,930,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 140,425, of whom 61,745 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, tropical in its climate and products. Every free white male citizen, who has resided in the State two years and in the county six months, and has been enrolled in the militia (unless exempt by law,) is qualified to vote; but no soldier, seaman or marine can vote unless qualified before enlistment. Its Legislature called a Convention, December 1, 1860, which met January 8, 1861, and passed a secession ordinance on the 10th by a vote of 62 to 7.

GEORGIA was settled at Savannah, in 1733, by the English under General Oglethorpe. It was chartered June 9, 1733; formed a Constitution February 5, 1777; a second in 1785 and a third May 30, 1798.—It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution January 2, 1788. Area 59,000 square miles, or 37,120,000 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,057,286, of whom 462,198 were slaves. It is a large cotton and rice growing State. Citizens of the State, six months resident of the county where voting, who have paid taxes the year preceding the election, are entitled to vote. November 18, 1860, its Legislature ordered an election for a State Convention, which assembled and passed a secession ordinance January 19, 1861, by a vote of 208 to 89, and on the 23d of the same month its members of Congress resigned.

ILLINOIS was settled at Kaskaskia, in 1683, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. An act for dividing the Indiana Territory and organizing the Territory of Illinois, was passed by Congress, February 3, 1809; and an act to enable it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., was passed April 18, 1818; a Constitution was framed August 26, and it was admitted into the Union December 23 of the same year. Area 54,405 square miles, or 64,819,200 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,711,951. It is the chief "prairie" State, and the largest grain growing and second largest cattle raising State in the Union. All white male inhabitants, who have resided in the State one year and election district sixty days, can vote in the district where actually residing.

INDIANA was settled at Vincennes, in 1690, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. It was organized into a Territory May 7, 1800, from which the Territory of Michigan was set off in 1805, and Illinois in 1809. An act was passed to empower it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., April 19, 1816, and it was admitted into the Union December 11 of the same year. Area 33,809 square miles, or 21,637,760 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,350,428. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to grain growing and cattle raising. A residence of one year in the State entitles males of 21 years of age to vote in the county of their residence.

IOWA was first settled at Burlington by emigrants from the Northern and Eastern States. It was part of the region purchased from France; was set off from the Territory of Wisconsin, and organized as a separate Territory June 12, 1838; an act for its admission as a State was passed and approved March 3, 1845, to which the assent of its inhabitants was to be given to be announced by Proclamation of the President, and on December 28, 1846, another act for its admission was passed. Area 50,914 square miles or 32,584,960 acres. Population, in 1860, 674,913. It is an agricultural State, resembling Illinois, and contains important lead mines. White male citizens of the United States, having resided in the State six months and county twenty days, are entitled to vote.

KANSAS was formed out of the original Louisiana purchase, and organized into a Territory by act of Congress, May —, 1854, and after several ineffectual attempts was finally admitted into the Union in January, 1861. Area 78,418 square miles, or 50,187,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 107,206. It is an agricultural State, with a soil of rich and deep black loam, except the central portion, which is partly a desert. The western portion is a fine grazing country, well wooded. It also abounds in minerals.

KENTUCKY was settled in 1775, by Virginians; formed into a Territory by act of the Virginia Legislature, December 18, 1789, and admitted into the Union June 1, 1792, by virtue of an act of Congress, passed February 4, 1791. Area 37,680 square miles, or 24,115,200 acres.—Population in 1860, 1,155,684, of whom 225,433 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, raising more flax and hemp than any other. Loyalty, a residence of two years in the State and one in the county are the requirements to vote. "Any citizen of this State who shall enter the service of the so-called Confederate States, in either a civil or military capacity; or into the service of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, in either a civil or military capacity; or having heretofore entered such service of either the Confederate States or Provisional Government, shall continue in such service after this act takes effect, (March 11, 1862,) or shall take up or continue in arms against the military forces of the United States or State of Kentucky, or shall give voluntary aid and assistance to those in arms against said forces, shall be deemed to have expatriated himself, and shall no longer be a citizen, except by permission of the Legislature by a general or special statute."

LOUISIANA was settled at Iberville, in 1699, by the French, and comprised a part of the territory ceded by France to the United States, by treaty of April 30, 1803, which purchase was erected into two Territories by act of Congress March 26, 1804, one called the Territory of Orleans, the other the District of Louisiana, afterwards changed to that of Missouri.—Congress, March 2, 1806, authorized the inhabitants of Orleans Territory to form a State Constitution and Government when their population should amount to 60,000; a Constitution was adopted January 22, 1812, and the State admitted into the Union April 8 of the same year, under the name of Louisiana. Area 41,255 square miles, or 26,403,200 acres. Population in 1860, 708,002, of whom 381,726 were slaves. It is the chief sugar producing State of the Union. Two years' residence in the State and one in the parish are the qualifications of voters. December 10, 1860, the Legislature ordered a State Convention to be held, which assembled and passed an ordinance of secession January 26, 1861, by a vote of 113 to 17. The people voted on the question, and on March 28 the following was announced as the result: For, 20,448; against, 17,293; a majority of 3,152. The Convention ratified the 'Confederate' Constitution March 11, 1861, by a vote of 107 to 7, and refused to submit it to the people by 94 to 10. On the 11th day of January, 1864, Maj. Gen. Banks issued a Proclamation for an election of State officers and delegates to a Constitutional Convention, for the purpose of affecting a reconstruction of the State Government under the plan suggested in the Amnesty Proclamation of President Lincoln. The election was held on the 22d day of February, 1864. The officers thus elected were installed March 4. The total vote cast was 10,725. The vote requisite under the Proclamation was 5,051. The Convention amended the Constitution so as to abolish slavery. The new Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 6,836 for, to 1,566 against.

MAINE was settled at York, in 1623, by the English, and was formerly under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. October 29, 1819, the inhabitants of the District of Maine framed a Constitution; applied for admission December 8, 1819. Congress passed an act March 3, 1820, and it was admitted as a State March 15, of the same year. Area 81,766 square miles, or 20,830,240 acres. Population, in 1860, 628,279. It is largely engaged in the lumber trade and ship building. Citizens of the United States, except paupers and persons under guardianship, who have resided in the State for three months next preceding the election, are entitled to vote.

MARYLAND was settled at St. Mary, in 1634, by Irish Roman Catholics, having been chartered June 20, 1632. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1788. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 87,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 82,208; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1781. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,231,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 30, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 28, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,586 acres. Population in 1860, 172,123 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1789, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,840 acres. Population in 1860, 791,805, of whom 436,681 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,890 square miles, or 43,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 30. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 43,670 to 41,808, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the viva voce system abolished.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snow, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,184,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 18, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,999,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,073. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5,324,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,035. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1664; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1663. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,704 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 331,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1802. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,339,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,606 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 22 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,865 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 708,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viva voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 18, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,600 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 6, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 287,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 182,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 8, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,680 Acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,814,582, of whom 481,410 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23; the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,824 for, and 82,184 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,818 voting in favor of the amendment, and 573 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 187, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC..

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Messilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 143,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,576 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDAHO was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1868. Its name means 'Head of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27° L. W. from Washington with the 45° N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 84th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 84th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 89th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 89th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,322. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,838 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,832 square miles, or 68,084,480 acres. Populaton, 40,278, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population 11,168, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and oblitterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1884, as amended by the act of July 13, 1888:

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or denoting marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing, then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All wilful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one of more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 154, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 156, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1866, by the officers of any county, town, or other mu-municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unencumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing, whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such indorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make ratable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should rectify the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When a subscription is for a purpose in which there is a community of interest among the subscribers, the list should be stamped as a contract, or agreement, at the rate of five cents for each sheet, or piece of paper upon which it is written.

When there is no community of interest, and the subscription is conditional, each signer executes a separate contract, requiring its appropriate amount of stamps; this amount depends upon the number of sheets or pieces of paper upon which the contract is written.

When each of the subscribers contracts to pay a certain and definite sum of money on demand, or at a time designated, the separate contract of each should be stamped at the same rate as a promissory note.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements; bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any—however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when an instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

To and from Canada and New Brunswick 10 cents per half ounce, irrespective of distance.

To and from other British North American Provinces, for distance not over 3,000 miles, 10 cents. Over 3,000, 15 cents.

For every additional half ounce, or fraction of a half ounce, an additional rate is charged. Prepayment is optional on all letters for the British North American Provinces except Newfoundland, to which prepayment is compulsory.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 35 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 30 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cents.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 8 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be prepaid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

[All printed matter (except single copies of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals to regular subscribers) sent via overland mail, is to be charged at LETTER POSTAGE rates.]

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

LETTER POSTAGE TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES.—For each half ounce: To England, Ireland and Scotland, 24 cts.; to France and Algeria, by French mails, 15 cts., quarter ounce. By the Bremen or Hamburg mails, the postage to Bremen and Hamburg is 10 cts.; to Frankfort and Wurtemberg, 15 cts.; to the German States, Prussia, Austria, and its States, and Lombardy, 15 cts.; to the Sardinian States, 23 cts.; to Papal States,

38 cts.; to the Two Sicilies, 22 cts.; to Denmark, 30 cts.; to Sweden, 33 cts.; to Norway, 38 cts.; to Russia, 29 cts. By the Prussian closed mails, or by French mail, the postage to these countries is higher.—The prepayment of letters to them, excepting to the Two Sicilies, is optional; as also to Canada and the British North American States, where the postage is 10 cts. under 3,000 miles, and 15 cts. over. To the following, postage must be prepaid: To British West Indies, Aspinwall, Panama, and Mexico, 10 cts. under 2,500 miles, 20 cts. over; to New Granada, 18 cts.; to Peru, 22 cts.; to Ecuador, Bolivia, and Chili, 24 cts.; to Sandwich Islands, New South Wales, and China, by mail to San Francisco, thence by private ship, 10 cts.; to China and Australia via England, 33 and 45 cts., via Marseilles, 35 and 57 cents.

Infalible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THIRTEEN CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the represented white lines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pouting, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the lifelike appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's names in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infalible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar;" and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermillion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfilment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing; another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarion afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fall of fortune in this world, as they fall of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of soclety, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit falls; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1885. }

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emptions or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt" which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 3d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.—Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1892.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the subjoined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1830.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretenses, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.

17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.

18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.

19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.

20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.

21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.

22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.

23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.

24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.

25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.

26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.

27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.

28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.

29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.

30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.

31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.

32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.

33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.

34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.

35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.

36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.

37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.

38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.

39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.

40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.

41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.

42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.

43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.

44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.

45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.

46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.

47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. In an action for libel against a newspaper, extracts from such newspaper may be given to show its circulation, and the extent to which the libel has been published. The jury, in estimating the damages, are to look at the character of the libel, and whether the defendant is rich or poor. The plaintiff is entitled, in all cases, to his actual damages, and should be compensated for the mental sufferings endured, the public disgrace inflicted, and all actual discomfort produced.

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, tho' unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made, to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was used by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessities furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employees for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employees engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	n w n e s w s e
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about 39 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

 A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

RULE FOR ALL INTEREST.

SUMMARY OF DIRECTIONS FOR WORKING INTEREST OF ANY CONVENIENT PRINCIPAL TIME, AND RATE.

Place the Principal, Time, and Rate, on the right of a vertical line; and if the time is days, place 30 and 12 on the left; if the time is months, place 12 only, on the left; and if the time is years, place nothing on the left.

If the Principal, Time, or Rate is a mixed number, reduce it to an improper fraction, and place the numerator on the right, with the denominator on the left.

When the Principal is dollars, the answer is cents; in such case, two figures must be cut off for cents; when the Principal is cents, the answer is hundredths of cents; here, cut off two figures, commencing at the right, for hundredths, two more for cents, and the remainder at the left is dollars.—The figures thus cut off for cents, hundredths, &c., must be whole numbers; while any existing fraction will only be a fractional part of such cents or hundredths.

When the time is months and days, or years, months and days, reduce the years to months, and add in all the given months; then reduce the days to the fractional part of a month, and annex this fraction to the whole number of months; reduce all to an improper fraction, and place the numerator on the right, and the denominator on the left. In such case, divide by 12 only. If the time cannot be reduced to the fractional part of a month, reduce the whole time years, months and days, to days, and divide by 30 and 12.

If the time is years and months, reduce the months to the fractional part of a year; add to the years; reduce all to an improper fraction, and divide by the denominator only.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much goodness in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent. on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent. premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent. and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $300,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dullest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice unslacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes further, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct $\frac{1}{4}$. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 224. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 235 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels, &c.

EXPLANATION TO

Storrs' Condensed Interest Table, at 7 Per Cent.

ONE DOLLAR TO NINE THOUSAND. ONE DAY TO SIX YEARS.

The interest in the table is in all cases computed for the thousands, for the time designated. To determine interest for a less sum, as many figures should be pointed off from the right of the product as are pointed off from the thousands in the column of principals. For instance—the interest on $5,000 for ten months is $291.67. For $500, the figure 7 to the right should be pointed off, leaving $29.16, 7 as the interest on $500 for the same time. For $50, the figure 6 must be pointed off, and the figures at the left represent the interest, and so on for smaller sums. By annexing a 0, you have the interest for $50,000,

FASHIONABLE GOODS,

MADE TO ORDER, IN FIRST CLASS STYLE, BY

D. SHAFER & CO.,

No. 4 Bank Block, Canandaigua, N. Y.

To gentlemen of taste and judgment, there is nothing more pleasing nor really more necessary to their daily comfort, than dress that fits well, looks well, and wears well.—Fashion decrees this, and as taste and elegance are her handmaids, the nearer gentlemen's dress approaches the standard fashions of the day, so much more is it held in the estimation of those who appreciate a good personal appearance.

DR. CLINE'S PAIN EXTERMINATOR !

AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY

For Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Ague in the Face, Croup, Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Pains in the Stomach, Side or Back, Rheumatism, Painters' Colic, Chilblains, Corns, Burns, &c.

This Exterminator is truly great for all kinds of wounds on man or beast; and, in fact, for the speedy cure of any pains which the human family is subject to.

The numerous cures that are daily performed by the use of the Vegetable Exterminator are sufficient evidences of its super-excellent virtues; furthermore, this preparation does not contain any poisonous, mineral or deleterious drugs. This medicine has been before the public for years, and has won for itself a name that speaks mightier than words, and has proved itself to be the greatest remedy brought before an afflicted race for the speedy and safe cure of the above complaints.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

TRY IT!!!

It never fails. All it want is one fair trial to be appreciated.

Milwaukee, July 1, 1863.

DR. CLINE, Dear Sir:—Allow me to tender you my thanks for the benefit that your Pain Exterminator done me. I can testify that the use of it saved my knee, when the doctors said it would have to be taken off; and it is all sound now, to their surprise.

Your most ob't servant,

LORENZO SACKETT.

LORENZO SACKETT.

MR. CLINE, Sir:—My three children were taken with the diphtheria; I employed skillful doctors; they did all they could for them, all of no account; they gave them up as past cure. I tried your Pain Exterminator, which acted like a magic spell, and in three days from the first application they got well.

Johnstown, Sept. 3, 1861.

Yours,
J. HALE.

MR. CLINE:—Allow me to address you with a knowledge of your Pain Exterminator. I was afflicted with Inflammatory Rheumatism, and was entirely helpless. I tried almost everything I could hear of, but all to no account. At last I obtained a bottle of your Pain Exterminator, and was effectually cured by the use of three bottles. I have used it in my family for various complaints, all with the best success. Every family should always keep it on hand, as it is a great medicine. Yours res'y, GEORGE SARGENT.

Sodus, N. Y., May 10, 1860.

DR. CLINE:—Allow me to address you with a knowledge of your Pain Exterminator. I had a valuable horse taken with a colic. My neighbors pronounced him past cure. I gave him some of your valuable Pain Exterminator. Within six hours from the time I gave it to him, I drove him ten miles. I have used it for calks, galls and scratches, all with the best satisfaction.

Havana, May 7, 1860.

Steam Fancy Dyeing & Cleansing Establishment,

TWO HUNDRED YARDS NORTH OF THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD DEPOT,
On Mill Street, Cor. of Platt Street, (Brown's Race,) ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The reputation of this Dye House since 1838 has induced others to counterfeit our signs, checks, business cards, and even the cut of our building, to mislead and humbug the public.

No connection with any similar establishment.

Crape, Broche, Cashmere and Plaid Shawls, and all bright colored Silks and Merinos cleansed without injury to the colors. Also,

Ladies' & Gentlemen's Garments Cleansed or Colored

Without ripping, and pressed nicely. Silk, Wool or Cotton Goods of every description dyed all colors and finished with neatness and dispatch, on very reasonable terms.—Goods dyed black Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Kid Gloves Cleaned or Dyed.

All Goods returned in one week. Goods received and returned by Express. Bills collected by Express Co.

Address, D. LEARY, Mill St., cor. Platt St., Rochester, N. Y.

J. M. PAGE,
MANUFACTURER OF
PAGE'S COMPOUND ARNICA OIL
AND
SUGAR COATED MANDRAKE LIVER PILLS,
PAGE'S HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,
5 Seneca Street, Geneva, N. Y.

J. M. PAGE respectfully informs Homeopathic Physicians that he manufactures PURE GLOBULES, and always keeps on hand all articles in the Homeopathic line. Pure Medicines and all the standard and domestic works on the practice of Homeopathy. SEAR OF MILK, etc.

THE PRINCIPAL REMEDY IN THESE PILLS, IS PODOPHYLLIN,

A vegetable, possessing all the good and alterative effects of Mercury and the Blue Pills, without leaving any of those bad effects upon the system. They cure all Liver complaints, acting gently upon the bowels, removing all poisonous humors from the system, never creating any irritation nor griping pains; they are a sure cure for Dyspepsia, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the whole system; they also cure Jaundice, Constipation, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Female Diseases, &c. When used in connection with PAGE'S COMPOUND ARNICA OIL, they are warranted to cure all cases of Scrofula and Fever Sores, Piles, and all diseases originating from impurities of the blood. They are sugar coated, and can be had at the Druggists for 25 cents. Manufactured only by J. M. PAGE, Geneva, N. Y., to whom all orders should be addressed. Ask for PAGE'S SUGAR COATED MANDRAKE LIVER PILLS, and take no others.

IS A SCIENTIFIC COMPOUND.

An old and well tried remedy, that was never known to fail. When used in connection with PAGE'S MANDRAKE LIVER PILLS, it is a sure cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Piles, Chilblains, Sore Eyes, Cuts, Burns, Bruises, and all diseases of the Skin. Whenever there is pain and inflammation either in the Lungs, Stomach or Bowels, apply a plaster of PAGE'S ARNICA OIL, and immediate relief will be given. For SCROFULA SORES it has no parallel; it having completely eradicated this horrible disease after every other remedy had been used in vain. Any person making a trial of it who may not be satisfied with the result, can return the same and the purchase money will be refunded. It can be had at the Druggists for 25 and 50 cents a box, and is manufactured only by J. M. PAGE, Geneva, N. Y., to whom all orders should be addressed. Ask for PAGE'S ARNICA OIL and take no other.

THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENT OF THE AGE.

Having purchased the Right of ONTARIO COUNTY, to manufacture

W.H.Kelly's Cultivator,

I am now prepared to furnish this much desired implement for cultivating the soil, and one that I think will supply the wants of the farming public.

This CULTIVATOR is constructed with five small shovel teeth, with cast iron shanks and steel reversible points; so arranged that when one end gets worn, reverse them and you have a New Cultivator; all fastened together with bolts and nuts with large washers, so that no rain nor wet can get into the timber. Also two large wings for hilling purposes, with cast iron shanks and steel points eleven inches broad, and so arranged that you can set them deep or shallow, as occasion may require. One wing sets a little forward of the other, and it will be seen at once that it will not choke up, like the common shovel plow. It runs steady, holds easy, and cuts up everything in its course, and works to a charm. It answers the double purpose of a Cultivator and Shovel Plow; the wings fasten on the center beam with clamps, bolts and nuts.

Farmers, Nurserymen, Hop-Growers, Gardeners, Grape-Growers and Tobacco-Growers!

You will find it for your interest to use this Cultivator in preference to any other now in use.

THIS INVENTION AND COMBINATION WAS PATENTED 1862-3.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING:

For the first time hoeing or weeding use the five small diamond pointed teeth, as directed above; make it any desirable width by means of a nut in the center of the spreader. For the last time hoeing, and wherever a hill is desired, take off the two rear teeth from the outer beams and put the two large wings on the centre beam, placing one a little forward of the other.

LOG, CHAIN, IRON AND STONE PUMPS,

SAW FILING AND GUMING,

Also the SQUARE TOOTH HAY RAKES, the best in use.

MOTHERS! READ THIS.

Are your children restless, irritable, wakeful, feverish? Are they cutting teeth? Are the gums red and painful? Have they diarrhoea? Have they fits or spasms? If so,

USE THE ORIENTAL SYRUP.

It is the only Syrup or Cordial, or CHILD MEDICINE in market free from Opium, Morphine, or Paragoric. These you can't give; or, at least, you ought not to. They destroy the functions of the BRAIN; the child grows pale; its eyes grow wild; its flesh becomes soft; it loses its mind; it becomes an idiot. Mothers, these are facts! To be convinced, try it. The Oriental Syrup contains NONE of those poisons. It is perfectly harmless. It is soothing—quieting. The child sleeps sweetly, and awakes refreshed and lively. The teeth penetrate the gums without pain. It is good for aged and nervous people. TRY IT.

DR. G. T. TAFT & CO., Proprietors,
Seneca Falls, N. Y.

THE BALM OF GILEAD!

SIR ASHLEY COOPER, in one of his lectures to his class, says:—I have used the Balm of Gilead in my practice, in one form or other, for more than forty years; and for Old Sores or Ulcers, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Burns, Chilblains, Scalds, Piles, Chafes, &c., it surpasses every other known remedy.

Rosenberger's Balm of Gilead Ointment

Is composed of Oils and Balsams from trees and shrubs, and for all the diseases referred to by Dr. Cooper, we warrant it almost a specific. For Gall, Grease and Wounds of Horses, it has no equal. We warrant it; therefore do not hesitate to try it for every kind of Wound, Bruise or Sore.

N. H. GALUSHA,

COURT STREET FOUNDRY,

COURT STREET, NEAR ST. PAUL,

ROCHESTER, - N. Y.,

Exclusive Manufacturer of the Celebrated

HOT AIR COOK STOVE,

'GEN GRANT.'

The "Gen. Grant" is truly a FIRST CLASS STOVE, intended for either coal or wood, simple in all its details, is practical, economical, durable and useful, and any person in the least familiar with a stove, can manage it with the greatest ease and economy.

The "Gen. Grant" is compact in form, plain in design, and very neat, and easy to be kept clean. The castings are smooth, and mounted and fitted with the greatest care and exactness. The stove is made very heavy, and all the plates exposed to the fire are made of extra thickness, and designed for durability. The oven doors are lined with tin reflectors, which serve to retain the heat in the oven. The hearth is directly in front of the fire-box, with a large and spacious ash pit, sufficiently large for all the ashes and coal to pass down in front, thereby saving the grate from burning out. The broiling apparatus, for wood or coal, is very convenient. In a word, it is the

MOST PERFECT COOKING STOVE YET INVENTED.

The attention of the Trade is called to it.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Coleman & Barnes, Proprietors and Manufacturers of Spencer's Patent Self-Sealing Fruit Jar, at Rochester, are building up an extensive trade in this useful commodity. We recommend the attention of consumers, and those of the trade, who are not already supplied, to examine their goods. See card, page 116.

Moses Twist & Sons, Conveyancers, Real Estate, Insurance, General Collecting Agents, Commission Merchants and dealers in all kinds of House Furnishing Goods, Yankee Notions, &c., publish a card on page 122. We would recommend customers to call at their store in Canandaigua, for almost anything they may want.

D. W. Baird, Carriage Manufacturer, on Castle street, Geneva, can supply any kind of goods in his line, of the latest styles and best quality of workmanship, at prices to suit customers. See advertisement and cut of his manufactory on page 124.

Dr. Cline's Pain Exterminator. This popular remedy is said to be infallible in most cases for which it is recommended. Several astonishing cures by its use are on record. We cheerfully recommend afflicted ones to peruse the Doctor's advertisement on page 130.

D. P. Nelson, on Water Street, Geneva, manufactures Double and Single Harness of all styles, from Superior Leather. He also deals extensively in Saddlery Goods of all kinds, Whips, Trunks, Valises, Traveling Bags, Horse Nets, &c., which he promises to sell reasonable as his customers could expect. See card, page 132.

Gordon & Benson, Grocers and Provision dealers, publish an attractive card on page 114, and we are assured by those who know, that at their store, No. 79, corner Castle and Main streets, Geneva, may be found a very choice assortment of family supplies, at the lowest market prices.—They are deserving of the liberal patronage they enjoy.

E. B. Holmes, M. D., who was for ten years a Regular physician, and who has for twelve years been practicing Homeopathy, publishes a card on page 116. Dr. Holmes resides in Canandaigua.

John Gillette, Jr., Attorney and Counselor at Law, Canandaigua, N. Y. See card, page 116.

James A. Hawley, Physician and Surgeon, at Canandaigua, will attend promptly to all professional calls. See card, page 116.

V. O. Hart, Justice of the Peace, at Naples, will attend to the drawing of Deeds, Mortgages, Contracts, &c. He will attend promptly to the collection of accounts left with him for that purpose. See card, page 116.

Robert Mitchell, dealer in Boots and Shoes, at No. 20 Seneca street, has the honor of being one of the oldest business men of Geneva. During the 36 years he has been actively engaged in the boot and shoe trade here, he has earned by fair dealing, the lucrative trade he enjoys. We heartily recommend him to the patronage of all who desire neat, stylish and durable goods in his line. See card page 108.

Walter H. Ellis, Jeweler and Dealer in Fine Watches, Clocks, &c., at 163 Main street, Canandaigua, is prepared to offer rare inducements to customers, in his line of trade. His stock is very complete and is comprised of all new styles.

His reputation for repairing and adjusting fine watches, should recommend him to those in want of such services. See card page 108.

D. Shafer & Co. Merchant Tailors, No. 4 Bank Block, Canandaigua, enjoy an enviable reputation for the elegance of style and finish of the garments gotten up at their establishment. No better suits or closer fits can be had anywhere.

They keep on hand at all times an assortment of superior cloths, cloakings, vesting, &c. Give them a call. See advertisement, page 110.

W. B. Dunning, Proprietor of the New York Central Iron Works, at Geneva, publishes a card on page 112. The long established reputation of these works makes a recommendation from us superfluous.—Mr. Dunning is prepared to fill orders for almost anything in the machinery line, with all reasonable dispatch. His works are near the Central R. R. depot.

W. P. Durrant, Repairer of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, No. 30 Seneca St., Geneva, will attend promptly to all orders in his line. He will give special attention to engraving in all its branches. Give him a trial; he is a skillful workman. See card, page 112.

B. W. Keyes, Manufacturer of Carriages and Sleighs, at Geneva, publishes a card, embellished with a splendid cut, on page 158. Mr. Keyes studies to excel in his profession. He keeps supplied with the monthly styles from New York, and employs none but first class workmen. We are informed he uses none but the best of stock in his work. No need of visiting Rochester or other cities for light carriages, when such workmen reside at home.

C. A. Richardson, Attorney and Counselor at law, Main St., Canandaigua, N. Y. See card, page 123.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Cyrus Garlock, Lumber Dealer and manufacturer of Sash, Doors, Blinds, Staves, Heading, Butter Tubs, &c., at Port Gibson, advertises on page 146. He planes and re-saws lumber for customers, when desired. Mr. Garlock will fill all orders promptly, and at the lowest rates. Persons about to build, will undoubtedly find it to their interest to select from his stock.

D. Leary's Old and Responsible Dyeing and Cleansing Establishment, at Rochester, is represented on page 148. Mr. Leary advertises liberally, and does his work to the entire satisfaction of his customers, hence his well established success.

For nearly 40 years this has been the leading dye house in western New York. For further particulars we recommend the reader to the perusal of Mr. Leary's card, assuring them that, if entrusted to his charge and keeping, they will receive back in due time, their old or soiled clothing, looking almost, if not quite as well as when new.

S. A. Whiting, Merchant Tailor, at Phelps, publishes a card on page 146. At this establishment may be found Ready Made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gloves, &c., in abundance; or, if desired, Superior Grades of Cloth, for Summer or Winter wear, from which suits can be furnished, made up by first class workmen, on short notice. The celebrated Grover & Baker Family Sewing Machine may here be had on the most favorable terms. Call and see.

Louis A. Ehrlich, wholesale and retail dealer in Yankee Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Ribbons, White goods &c., at Canandaigua, publishes a card on page 118. He manufactures quite extensively a superior article of hoop skirts, and keeps constantly supplied with a full assortment of white goods, trimmings, &c., which he will supply either to the trade or to retail customers at satisfactory figures. Expectant brides will scarcely fail of procuring their outfit at this popular establishment where they are certain of finding everything they require of the latest patterns, and most exquisite manufacture.

S. K. Bowker, Carriage maker at Phelps, although not the most extensive manufacturer in the country, prides himself upon the excellent quality of his work. He employs none but skillful workmen, either in the wood, iron, or painting departments. He is willing to risk his reputation on his production. We have no hesitation in recommending all in want of light carriages or buggies to call and examine his styles and prices. See card, page 142.

Oscar N. Crane, Undertaker, at 116 Main street, Canandaigua, publishes a card on page 140. He is exclusive agent in this section for "Shuler's Patent Burial Casket." Those in want of his services will find him ever ready and prepared to attend to calls day or night.

M. C. Haight, Agent, at Geneva, deals extensively in Jewelry, Watches, Clocks, Silverware and Plated Goods of every description. His stock is very large and complete, and being from the most celebrated manufacturers, is much sought after by those who pride themselves in owning first class goods. Repairing in all its branches will at his hands receive prompt and careful attention. Persons troubled with weak eyes should not fail to select from his large stock of superior spectacles. See card, page 119.

Coleman & Carman, are Surgeon Dentists at Canandaigua. Their long and successful experience at the profession has gained them many friends. They guarantee to perform all operations in a most thorough manner. Call and see them if you are in want of any thing in the dentistry line. See their cards, pages 142 and 206.

The Ontario Repository and Messenger, published by J. J. Mattison, has flourished under various names and proprietors, at Canandaigua, since 1799. Its present publisher has been connected with the establishment for more than twenty years, during which time he has gained a host of friends, and added very materially to the improvement of his office and the appearance of his paper. The circulation of the "Repository and Messenger," is quite large, thus affording an advertising medium of great utility to those who are wise enough to accept the advantages it offers. C. E. Mattison the gentlemanly "local" is ever ready to attend to "matters round home." The jobbing department of this office is kept fully supplied with material for first class printing. For further particulars we would refer the reader to page 144.

Bates & Meek, Sell Books, Stationery &c., at 190 Main street, Canandaigua. Their stock is extensive, comprising standard, miscellaneous and School Books, Sheet Music, Law Blanks, Blank Books, Wall Paper, Curtains, Wrapping Paper, Stationery, &c., which they will sell at the lowest market prices. Patrons will find their shelves at all times supplied with the latest literary novelties.

They will also give prompt attention to the binding of magazines, periodicals and books of all descriptions. See card, page 134.

Louis Zimmerman's Barber Shop, in the Webster House Block, Canandaigua, is a favorite resort for all "epicures" in the "tonsorial art." His stock of Gent's Furnishing Goods, Hair Oils, Perfumery, &c., is very complete. We hope he may continue to "scrape an acquaintance" with many new customers all the days of his life. See card, page 124.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

J. M. Page, at Geneva, proprietor and manufacturer of "Page's Mandrake Liver Pills, and Arnica Oil," advertises on page 150. His remedies are deservedly popular. The following notice which appeared in the "Geneva Gazette," June 7th, 1867, we believe expresses the sentiments of all who have been treated with his remedies for similar diseases:—

STRONG TESTIMONY.—Many of our citizens formed the acquaintance of Prof. U. Gregory during his temporary sojourn with us last winter, and in conducting a large class in commercial instruction—a profession which he had long followed at the West at the head of a chain of Commercial Colleges. Acquaintances will also recollect his sufferings from an erysipelas affecting a condition of body which induced him to try a remedy in a change of climate and system of hygiene in vogue at our water cure establishments. To this end he sought treatment at the institutions both at Clifton Springs and Geneva. Although not finding a cure by the methods thus tried, his visit East was not altogether in vain, for it enabled him to form the acquaintance of our townsman Dr. J. M. PAGE, and to be healed by the magic and matchless medicines prepared by the Doctor, and which are famous for their curative properties and results throughout a large portion of our country. The following letter from Prof. Gregory tells in brief of his speedy cure by the use of Page's Mandrake Liver Pills and Arnica Oil:—

Green Bay, Wis., May 30, 1867.

Mr. J. M. Page, Geneva, N. Y.:—

Dear Sir:—Allow me to express my high appreciation of your Mandrake Pills for Bilious derangement and confirmed affection of the Liver, to such an extent as to produce an Erysipela on the nose and face. After a year of medical treatment, and several months spent at a Water Cure, without any benefit, I was permanently cured by taking a few boxes of your excellent Mandrake Pills, and using some two boxes of your Arnica Oil upon the affected parts.

Please send me 1 doz. boxes of the Pills by express to distribute among my friends. Regards to you and yours.

I am very truly and respt. yours,

ULAH GREGORY.

The Gen. Grant, Hot Air Cook Stove, manufactured by N. H. Galusha of Rochester, is certainly one of the best stoves in market. We have used one of them in our family for some months past, and have come to the determination to "fight it out on this line all summer," (and winter too.) We have no hesitation in recommending dealers in search of a really first class stove to examine "The General Grant." See card, page 186.

D. Stephenson, Attorney and Counselor at Law, Phelps. See card on page 190.

One of the largest and most complete business establishments to be found anywhere in Central or Western New York, is that of Mr. Theodore E. Smith, manufacturer of and dealer in Furniture and Upholstering Goods. The business is carried on at No. 32 Seneca Street, Geneva, but is by no means confined to that particular locality, as the high reputation of the work turned out by Mr. Smith, has secured him customers in all that section of country. The main building has four floors, and is 40 feet front by 300 feet deep. This is connected with the manufactory in the rear, which is 35x100 feet, and yet back of this is a large lumber yard, and two extensive storehouses for the reception of duplicate goods. On the main floor, which has two entrances, will be found counting-room furniture of every grade, mirror plates, window shades, cornices, picture frames of every variety, etc., etc. One side of this room has been fitted up for the exhibition of mirrors, where all the modern patterns may be seen. Passing along to the main ware room, will be found an immense stock of ordinary household furniture, while the second floor is used for the exhibition of dining room and library furniture. Ascending to the third floor, where appears only drawing room and parlor suits, the eye takes in every variety, from the plainest to the most splendid styles, and of both foreign and domestic manufacture. These are upholstered in every material used, and are sold in suits, or separate pieces, to suit the purchaser. On the fourth floor of this extensive establishment, are bed room sets and general bed room furniture, comprising fifty different styles of sets, varying in price from $35 to $3000. Also, hotel furniture, spring beds, mattresses, feather and feather pillows.

In the manufactory, in the rear, three branches of the trade are carried on, viz:—the wood work, finishing, and upholstering. It is connected with the main building by a bridge, across which the finished wares may be moved safely and expeditiously. All furniture is delivered with the greatest care, three large delivery wagons being employed for that purpose. Mr. Smith is a first business man, as a glance at this superb establishment is sufficient to indicate, and those dealing with him will find everything precisely as represented. See page 204.

Dr. A. Merrell, Proprietor of the Lewis Street Vineries, in Geneva, has at a large expense, stocked his grounds with all the most choice varieties of Grapes. He is prepared to furnish Vines in large quantities, at the most reasonable terms. See card, page 190.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Howe's Never-Failing Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, manufactured by Dr. C. B. Howe, at Seneca Falls, have cured thousands of Ague and Fever, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, &c., &c. The Doctor also manufactures "Howe's Concentrated Syrup," a valuable remedy for purifying the blood, correcting the liver, cleansing the skin and for other purposes too numerous to mention. For further particulars we refer the reader to the Doctor's card, page 183.

The Geneva Gazette, S. H. Parker, Editor and Proprietor, is a large thirty-two column paper, ably edited, and, we believe, fully meets the expectations of its large list of patrons. The paper was commenced at Geneva, in Nov. 1806, as The Expatriator, by James Bogart. It has since passed through several hands, and has borne various titles. About 1840-44, the paper was discontinued. During the past twenty-two or three years, Mr. Parker has been, nearly all the time, the leading spirit of the establishment. His friendly disposition and gentlemanly manners has won for him many admirers. During the present season he has added Steam power to his establishment, which together with a large amount of type and good presses operated by excellent printers, renders his office first class in every particular, for all kinds of job printing. A reference to the advertising columns of The "Gazette" will satisfy any reasonable person of the excellent reputation of that paper as an advertising medium.

Finally, we would suggest to the subscribers of the "Gazette" the propriety of filling all the numbers. Let the volumes be bound. In this way you will eventually secure the best of all histories of your county, and one that would each year become more valuable. See card, page 184.

Ranger & Elton, Photographers, at Palmyra, publish a card on page 180. We think it will pay anybody within convenient distance to visit this large and elegantly arranged Gallery. The proprietors will be pleased to see their former friends from Ontario County, and we are sure as many new ones as choose to call will receive every reasonable attention. Their facilities are unsurpassed if scarcely equaled by any Gallery in Ontario County. We have called at several, and have found none to compare with it.

American Hotel, Auburn, Hiram L. Swift, Proprietor, is situated opposite the Court House, and is the best hotel in the city. Mr. Swift is uniformly courteous and obliging to guests, ever seeking to cater for their comfort. We mention that you go to the "American" when you visit Auburn, with the conscientious belief that the motion will be seconded, and carried by the mass of "good fellows," among travelling men; in a word, we say to all who love the comforts of a well-conducted home, to stop with friend Swift. See card, page 180.

Henry King, Proprietor of the American Hotel Livery, Castle street, Geneva, keeps a large number of well trained horses either for the Carriage or Saddle. His carriages are of the best make. Travelers or pleasure seekers will find it to their interest to call on Mr. King. See card, page 163.

Mrs. E. M. Baker, of Canandaigua, as a professional worker in human hair, has gained commendable notoriety. Her Wigs, Curis, Switches, Waterfalls and plain and ornamental work of all kinds is executed in the best manner. Her terms are very reasonable. See her card on page 173.

Frederick W. Prince, Real Estate and General Insurance Agent, at Geneva, takes Life, Fire, Accident and Marine risks. He represents several of the strongest companies in this country. Col. Prince is also prepared to sell passage tickets to and from the old country, by the most favorable routes and on very favorable terms. See card, page 190.

Carpenter & Rice, Harness Makers and Saddlers at Phelps, publish a card on page 190. They have been long at the business here, and the many neat and trim looking harnesses turned out from this establishment are sufficient evidence of their skill in their vocation.

Cogswell & Frost, Marble Workers and dealers at Geneva and Watkins, publish a card on page 160. Their long experience and well-known reputation, makes a recommendation from us entirely unnecessary. We would merely add, that their Marbles are of the best quality to be found in the market. Their prices and styles can but suit the most particular.

Charles Kipp, at Geneva, deals largely in China & Crockery, Earthenware, Glassware, Silver Plated Goods, &c., of which almost every conceivable style may be found at his store on Seneca street.

We advise all young people about to commence housekeeping, and in fact everybody in want of goods in his line, to call at his store. See card, page 163.

Ayres & Thomas, Dry Goods dealers, at their Mammoth Store, No. 26 Seneca street, Geneva, will be pleased at all times to show their friends and customers their immense stock of fashionable goods. Their store, 180 feet deep, is divided into eight distinct departments, each of which is devoted exclusively to its particular line of goods. Their carpet room is fully supplied with the different grades, from the most expensive and elaborate manufacture to the more common and cheap qualities. The proprietors are assisted by twelve or fifteen gentlemanly salesmen, who are ever ready to fill the orders of all who favor them with their patronage. See their advertisement, page 190.

Habits of a Man of Business.

A sacred regard to the principles of justice forms the basis of every transaction, and regulates the conduct of the upright man of business.

He is strict in keeping his engagements.

Does nothing carelessly or in a hurry.

Employs no one to do what he can easily do himself.

Keeps everything in its proper place.

Leaves nothing undone that ought to be done, and which circumstances permit him to do.

Keeps his designs and business from the view of others.

Is prompt and decisive with his customers, and does not overtrade his capital.

Prefers short credits to long ones, and cash to credit at all times, either in buying or selling; and small profits in credit cases, with little risk to the chance of better gains with more hazard.

He is clear and explicit in all his bargains.

Leaves nothing of consequence to memory which he can and ought to commit to writing.

Keeps copies of all his important letters which he sends away, and has every letter, invoice, &c., relating to his business, titled, classed, and put away.

Never suffers his desk to be confused by many papers lying upon it.

Is always at the head of his business, well knowing that if he leaves it it will leave him.

Holds it as a maxim that he whose credit is suspected is not one to be trusted.

Is constantly examining his books, and sees through his whole affairs as far as care and attention will enable him.

Balances regularly at stated times, and then makes out and transmits all his accounts current to his customers, both at home and abroad.

Avoids as much as possible all sorts of accommodation in money matters and lawsuits where there is the least hazard.

He is economical in his expenditures, always living within his income.

Keeps a memorandum book in his pocket, in which he notes every particular relative to appointments, addresses, and petty cash matters.

Is cautious how he becomes surety for any person; and is generous when urged by motives of humanity.

Let a man act strictly to these habits; when once begun they will be easy to continue—ever remembering that he hath no profits by his pains whom Providence doth not prosper—and success will attend his efforts.

Take pleasure in your business, and it will become your recreation.

Hope for the best, think for the worst, and bear whatever happens.

CASH AND CREDIT.—If you would get rich don't deal in bill books. Credit is the "tempter in a new shape." Buy goods on trust, and you will buy a thousand articles that Cash would never have dreamed of. A shilling in the hand looks larger than ten shillings seen through the perspective of a three months bill. Cash is practical, while Credit takes horribly to taste and romance. Let Cash buy a dinner, and you will have beef-steak flanked with onions. Send Credit to market, and he will return with eight pair of woodcocks and a peck of mushrooms.—Credit believes in diamond pins and champagne suppers. Cash is more easily satisfied. Give him three meals a day, and he don't care much if two of them are made up of roasted potatoes and a little dirty salt.—Cash is a good adviser, while Credit is a good fellow to be on visiting terms with. If you want double chins and contentment, do business with cash.

TO THOSE WHO WRITE FOR THE PRESS.—It would be a great favor to editors and printers, should those who write for the Press observe the following rules. They are reasonable, and our correspondents will regard them as such:—1. Write with black ink on white paper, wide ruled. 2. Make the pages small, one-fourth that of a foolscap sheet. 3. Leave the second page of each sheet blank. 4. Give to the written page an ample margin all around. 5. Number the pages in the order of their succession. 6. Write in a plain bold hand, with less respect to beauty. 7. Use no abbreviations which are not to appear in print. 8. Punctuate the manuscript as it should be printed. 9. For italics underscore one line; for small capitals two; for capitals three. 10. Never interline without the caret to show its place. 11. Take special pains with every letter in proper names. 12. Review every word to be sure that none is illegible. 13. Put directions to the printer at the head of the first page. 14. Never write a private letter to the editor on the printer's copy, but always on a separate sheet.

A STORY WITH A MORAL.—A Connecticut exchange tells the following story of a boy who was sent from Croton, Conn., to New London, one day last summer, with a bag of corn. The boy was gone all day, and returned with the bag unopened, which he dumped on the floor. Said he—

"There is your corn, go and sell it, for I can't."

"Sold any?"

"No: I've been all over London with it, and nobody said a word concerning green corn. Two or three fellows asked me what I had in my bag, and I told 'em it was none of their business what it was."

The boy is not unlike hundreds of merchants who will promptly call him a fool for not telling what he had to sell, and who are actually doing the same thing on a much larger scale than did the boy, by not advertising their business.

PUBLISHER'S CARD.

Before leaving the work in which I have, for the past few months, been so earnestly engaged, I desire to return thanks to all who have so kindly aided me in the effort to produce a work, which I confidently hope will prove of great value to its possessors. Those who have furnished information, (historical or otherwise,) for its pages, have my special thanks, while those who have pecuniarily aided in the way of subscriptions for advertising, will, I trust, receive liberal cash dividends as the legitimate fruits thereof. Subscribers for the work it is hoped may find much that is new, instructive, and valuable.

As a parting word to my friends in Ontario County, I would suggest to the business men, that very many of them would find Printer's Ink a great lubricator of the wheels of business. Too many seem to have fallen into a settled apathy, as regards business matters; willing to serve such customers as come unasked to their doors, but who make no efforts to retain at home the large amount of trade annually diverted to the cities of Syracuse and Rochester. As a general thing you are not willing to admit that the merchants of those cities can afford to sell the same class of goods cheaper than you can. Their rents, taxes and clerk hire, usually cost far more than yours—while your money will buy goods in market just as cheap as theirs. Why, then, should your citizens patronize the city merchants rather than yourselves? In penning this article I can have no selfish interest in view, as my present work with you is accomplished. It is purely for your own interest that I suggest the propriety of your advertising more liberally. Advertise extensively, and all the time—through the columns of your local newspapers, by hand-bills, by circulars, by cards, by every means you can employ. Advertise; let the people know you are alive, and that you have good goods, and full assortments, in your special lines, and that you will sell cheap, at city prices. And finally, if you keep posted as to the markets, and do as you advertise, our word for it, you will very soon be surprised at the increase of your sales. I do not mean that advertising alone will build up any business, or the want of it hinder its prosperity; but I do assert emphatically, and had I time and space to do so, could prove by large numbers of the many thousand persons with whom I have had business, that, in nine cases out of ten, advertising liberally and long is one of the best of business investments.

Do not be deceived by the too popular idea that “you are so long established, that everybody knows where you are, and what you have to sell.” I tell you it is, on your part, a grave error.

How many men in your county have been there but one or two years, or, perhaps, have just made their residence with you? Of what benefit is your “long established reputation” in such a case. Your neighbor, perhaps, who has been in business but a few months, is just as well “established,” in the mind of such a man, as “you,” who boast of being “so long in business that everybody knows you and you know everybody.” Politely speaking, you are “an old fossil.”

You will say that the new man must have some customers, and you will all stand your chances. Such a course will do very well when you are not anxious to increase your trade, or when you are quite willing to diminish it; for, while you are satisfied with this state of affairs, some more enterprising tradesman will reach your would-be customer, and perhaps withdraw his patronage from your village altogether. You should bear in mind always, that there is a dividing point between your village and those adjacent, and that the custom of citizens living near such dividing point, generally goes to that place which holds out the most favorable inducements.

A friendly rivalry in advertising, by parties engaged in the various kinds of business, is invariably noticed and commented upon by the masses who read, and tends to materially increase the business of a village. Don't be altogether selfish in your motives.—Work for the benefit of your locality, and you will surely reap your reward. In other words, build up your village, make it a center for a large strip of surrounding country.

As mediums for advertising, you have many: First of all is your Local Papers; your Editors are all good fellows, and would be pleased to advise their many readers who to deal with. Try them; they are liberal and uniformly obliging. Their local items, if you would allow it, might be the means of depositing many dollars in your till. As for other means of advertising, "their name is legion," the principal ingredient of which is Printer's Ink; the benefit to be derived from which, depends more or less upon the size of doses.

With thanks to friends generally, and especially to the several thousand patrons of the "GAZETTEER AND DIRECTORY OF ONTARIO COUNTY," I leave my work for the present, hoping in after years to again meet and serve you in a similar undertaking.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835. ANSON TITUS & SON, PLOW MAKERS,

Phelps, Ontario Co., N. Y.

We have made the manufacture of Plows a Special business and a study for many years, and we claim as the result, that our Plows now combine all the well established principles of Plow Making.

Our Mechanics, (who are all journeymen workmen, and have been with us a long time,) from their experience, have become familiar with, and skilled in the various branches of the business.

OUR CASTINGS ARE WARRANTED
AGAINST FLAWS.

PLOWS CANNOT BE WOODED BETTER.

OUR POINTS AND LANDSIDES ARE ALL GROUND SMOOTH AND BRIGHT.

We harden the ENTIRE WING of our points, by a process of chilling in the mould, that insures at least fifty per cent more wear than as ordinarily made. We make the "Eagle A. Plow," "Eagle C. Plow," No. 8 Pointer Plow, No. 9 Pointer Plow, Nursery Plows, (one horse, wood beam,) Potato Plow, (double moldboard,) Sub-Soil Plow, (Nourse & Co's pattern,) and a Gang Plow, the leading feature of which is, that it cuts all the ground it plows, thus making sure the destruction of thistles, &c.

We also keep constantly on hand, or can make at short notice,

Road Scrapers, Steel Amalgam Farm Bells, School House Seat Frames, Iron Fence and Iron Chairs, Coal Stoves for Shops, &c., &c.
